DON CAMERON.

He Emphatically Refuses Re-election to the Senate.

Says a Quarter of a Century in Public Life is Enough for Him.

WASHINGON, Dec. 9.—Senator Don Cameron today announced formally that he would not be a candidate under any circumstances for re election. He made the announcement by making public the following letter, addressed to Hon. Saml J. McCarrel, of Harrisburg, Pa:

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 9, 1895.

MY DEAR SENATOR:—I am in receipt of you letter of the seventh. You will remember that in a conversation at my home in Harrisburg, just after my election to the senate, I told you, as well as my other friends, that under no circumstances would I again be a candidate for re-election. Since then nothing has occurred to change my mind. Many friends from every section of the state are writing me making inquiry as to my wishes and interests and cordially offering their support. It is due to them that a public announcement should be made in reply to their inquiries and I take this opportunity through the senator from my native country to thank you and my friends in every county in the state for their more than generous support for more than a third of a century, and to say that I have not been, am not now and will not be a candidate for re-election to the senate of the United States. Not being in office, better opportunity would be afforded me to serve those who have served me, and that I will do so there can be no doubt.

Yours truly,
(Signed.) J. D. CAMERON.
To Hon. Samuel G. McCarrell, Harrisburg, Pa.

WIPED OUT BY FIRE.

A Connecticut Town in Ashes This Morning.

Flames Defy the Bucket Brigade and Sweep Everything Before Them.

RIDGEFIELD, Conn., Dec. 9.—The fire that started in this town last night baffled every attempt to extinguish it, and it raged until it burned itself out. The loss is believed to be $100,000, on which there is an insurance of $75,000. The fire wiped out the business portion of the town. It started in the wooden block on Main street, owned by G. S. Gage, in the store occupied by Bedick & Nead, from an explosion by a kerosene lamp. Ridgefield has no fire department and very little water supply. Bucket gangs of volunteers rallied to the fire, but the intense heat soon drove them back and their efforts made no impression upon the flames. The town hall, Masonic building, Western Union Telegraph company's office, the Southern New England Telephone company's office, the Ridgefield Press, house and grocery store of E. W. Hibbard and the house and drug store of H. K Scott were burned. The engine that was summoned from Danville rendered no assistance because of the defective water supply.

BOGUS $20 BILLS ARE OUT.

New York Man Caught at Toledo With Dangerous Counterfeits.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Dec. 9.—An arrest was made here last night which may give the government valuable information as to where a dangerous counterfeit $20 bill is coming from. A man giving the name of Lewis G. Smith, of New York, was captured after passing a bill on a fruit dealer. He had $340 in spurious bills and something over $200 in good money. Other complaints have appeared at the police station showing that Smith had at least three other victims. The notes were identified by United States authorities here as very dangerous counterfeits. The engraving is very fine and clear, but the ink and paper are inferior. The bills are representations of legal tender notes, with Hamilton's head. The check number is A71450023 and the plate is D. A man of the name of J. C. Cooper was also arrested on suspicion of complicity with Smith.

YOUNGEST MASTER OF A LODGE.

Terre Haute Production Enjoys That Distinction.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Dec. 9.—Will K. Hamilton, acting city clerk, is thought to be entitled to the distinction of being the youngest master of a masonic lodge in the state. He was elected worshipful master of Euclid lodge, No. 573, last week. Mr. Hamilton was born in Chicago on June 19, 1870, but has been a resident of this city for twenty-three years. He was a page in the circuit court, and afterwards deputy county clerk. He was on the stage for one year, and is in great demand for amateur and benefit performances in this city, of which his friends say he will be elected clerk next year. He became a mason in 1892. He is also a member of the Elks and Knights of Pythias. Two uncles, brothers of his mother, E. Nott Smith and Skilton S. Smith, are residents of Chicago.

ALWAYS NIGHT IN THEIR HOME.

Sightless Family at Kokomo Employs a Blind Hired Girl.

KOKOMO, Ind., Dec. 9.—This city is the home of a peculiarly afflicted family. The husband and wife are both blind, the latter being also a helpless cripple, the accident that produced blindness, likewise depriving her of the use of her arms. Their hired girl also is blind, thus the entire household is sightless. The husband sells candy on the streets. Their home is as neat and clean as the tidiest housekeeper with good eyes could keep it.

WHICH CITY WILL WIN

In the Contest for the Republican Presidential Convention?

The National Committee Listening to the Speeches Made for the Different Claimants.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The republican national committee assembled at 2 o'clock today to begin the hearing of cities desirous of entertaining the next republican national convention. The original purpose was to meet at 11 a. m. tomorrow, but the influx of enthusiastic advocates of cities seeking the convention made it desirable to hear the preliminary speeches, advancing the claims of the cities, today. As one of the officers of the committee stated, today would be given to "working off the steam," after which the committee would get down to business, behind closed doors.

Most of the national committeemen have arrived and the corridor of the Arlington hotel is the storm center of a surging crowd of convention "boomers" and others. The parlors of the hotels are being used as headquarters for the various cities.

Pittsburg has a point of vantage in the first parlor of the main corridor. Her headquarters are crowded constantly with prominent Pittsburghers who distribute literature showing the advantages of the city for a large gathering. The claims of Pittsburg will be presented by Representative Dalzell, Wm. A. Stone and C. L. Magee.

In an adjoining parlor St. Louis has headquarters, with her leading men similarly busy in advancing the interests of the city.

The San Francisco headquarters are on the third floor, but the delegation is doing its work in the lobbies, among the committeemen, rather than in the headquarters.

The Chicago delegation is also active down stairs without headquarters. Mayor Swift and Messrs. Pierce, Taylor, Allerton and Loiter held a conference at noon to outline the plans of canvass. Mayor Swift and Mr. Allerton probably will present Chicago's name to the committee.

The headquarters of the Ohio delegation, which is looking after the interests of Governor McKinley, is constantly crowded. The delegation has made a permanent organization, with Representative Grosvenor as chairman, and Representative Northway as vice chairman. It is said that as Mr. Reed and Mr. Allison are in Washington, it is proper that Governor McKinley should be likewise represented through his friends.

New York state was not represented by a delegation up to noon, although T. C. Platt and Representative Quigg were on the ground. It was stated that a special train bearing a New York delegation was on its way.

"Late, as usual," said Mr. Quigg.

"It's the first I knew New York wanted the convention," said Mr. Platt. "I was in New York up to last evening, and I heard no mention of the metropolis seeking the convention."

It is the board of transportation that has taken the inititative," said Mr. Quigg.

"It ought to be the common board," said Mr Platt.

It is hardly believed, in view of this feeling, that New York will make a serious effort for the convention. The St. Louis delegation held a meeting during the forenoon and authorized Mr. Samuel Kennard, the head of the Business Men's association of St. Louis, to announce authoritatively that colored delegates to the national convention would receive exactly the same accommodations, facilities and treatment at the hotels and public places as white delegates, and also to make a guarantee that the hotels would not advance rates during the convention.

The Illinois delegation in the house and senate, and Chicago men who are in Washington to urge the claims of that city, had a conference at the capitol today to discuss their campaign. There was no formal action taken, but the members agreed to do all in their power to advance the interests of Chicago. Some of the contesting cities evidently did not favor the movement to hear their claims today instead of tomorrow, and public evidence of their protests was made when Con Swords, sergeant-at-arms of the national committee, said at noon that it was possible the program might be changed again and the hearing of cities delayed until tomorrow, as the New York delegation had been delayed, and there was a feeling that a hearing today would be premature.

The large banquet hall where the hearings are to take place, had been elaborately decorated for the occasion, the American flag being predominant every where in the arrangements.

At 2 o'clock only a few committee men had reached the hall and it was some time afterwards that the meeting opened behind closed doors.

At 2:30 o'clock only twenty members of the committee were present and it was 3 p. m. before the committee was called to order and Chairman Carter announced that the hearing of claims of cities would be postponed till tomorrow.

The Pennsylvania railroad last month broke all former records in movement of freights. At Harrisburg 136,943 cars were handled, exceeding all former months' records 2,274 cars.

TWENTY-SIX LOST.

The British Steamer Principia Goes Down at Sea.

Of Her Crew of Twenty-Seven Only One Lives to Tell the Tale of the Wreck.

LEITH, Scotland, Dec. 9.—The British steamer Principia took fire in the forehold when about forty miles north of Cape Wrath, on the northwestern extremity of Scotland. She ran for one of the Force islands, struck a rock and went down with twenty seven of her crew, only one, Henry Anders, of Rostock, being saved. He was taken from the water after clinging to wreckage for eighteen hours. A passenger named Jackson was also drowned. The Principia was a barkentine rigged screw steamer, built at New Castle, England, in 1881. She was owned by The Arrow Shipping company, and registered 1,730 net and 2549 gross tons. Simpson, Spence & Co are the New York agents of the line.

L'ANSE, Mich., Dec. 9.—The tug, P. B. Campbell, with her crew, was lost about twenty miles off Huron Island on Saturday morning. No particulars have been received. The Campbell is of twenty-two tons burden and was owned by B. B. Inman, of Duluth. She had lately been employed in the effort to release the stranded schooners, Moonlight and Kent, at Marquette, and was probably on her way home to Duluth from that port when she was lost.

MARY THURMAN FINDS GOLD.

Daughter of the "Old Roman" of Ohio Makes a Rich Strike.

LOS ANGELES, Cala., Dec. 9.—News comes from the Colorado desert mining camp of Picacho, near Yuma, that Mary Thurman, daughter of Judge Thurman, has made the richest strike known in any of the desert camps for years. She was prospecting in the hills and found a vein that promises to make her a bonanza queen. Mary Thurman was once the belle of Washington and there she married Lieutenant Cowles, now United States naval attache in London, who recently wedded Miss Roosevelt, sister of the secretary of the United States embassy. Cowles and she soon disagreed, and he permitted her to get a divorce. Then she came west to San Diego and lived at Tia Juana, on the Mexican line. There she met and married Thomas Gifford, a dashing adventurer, who proved to have a wife and two children. Then she went home to see her mother before the old woman died, but Judge Thurman refused to permit her to enter his door, and she returned. She got a divorce from Gifford, and then surprised her friends by marrying "Bug" Holliday, the base ball player. She is known in all the mining camps of southern California.

GLASS COMBINE TAKES ALARM.

Independent Plants Force It to Revoke Its Orders for a Shut Down.

ANDERSON, Ind., Dec. 9.—The announcement that the great De Pauw Window Glass company would put its plant into operation again the first of the year has put the window glass trust on edge, and the shut down of all window glass plants in the country, which was to have taken place January 1, to continue for an indefinite period, has been declared off. The plant is the largest in the United States and has a capacity of ninety pots. The new company refuses to go into the combine. The announcement that the American Plate Glass company's plants at Alexandria and New Albany would be put in operation January 1 also caused the officers of the trust to take alarm. The Alexandria plant is the largest in the world and the two are large enough to force down the prices of the trust, which, without avail, has tried to get them into the combination. The flint glass trust will close all its plants January 1 for a short time to strengthen prices.

DOGS FOR A PERILOUS TRIP.

To be Used as Mail Carriers to a Region Where Letters Cost 50 Cents Each.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Dec. 9.—James Jackson, an educated Indian, who is to personally carry the mails from Juneau to Port Cudahy, on the Yukon river, has arrived on the steamer Wallapa. He came down to secure twenty or thirty strong dogs to pull the sleds across the mountains to the Canadian postoffice on Forty Mile creek. This service is merely a private enterprise, being maintained by miners, who pay fifty cents for each letter. The Canadian government guarantees $350 for each of two round trips. This is reckoned as being a most hazardous journey and several miners have lost their lives in trying to make it.

LEAVES THE EPISCOPAL FAITH.

Rumor That Dr. Merritt Has Embraced Roman Catholicism.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., Dec. 9.—It has been reported that Rev. Dr. R. N. Merritt had renounced the religion of the Episcopal church and embraced the Roman Catholic faith. He has been ill for the past month from Bright's disease and his death is expected momentarily. His immediate friends will neither deny nor affirm the report and one of them replied tersely to a query that "It was nobody's business if he did." Dr. Merritt is seventy years old and has been rector of St. Peter's church for twenty years.

Miners May Strike.

MASSILLON, Ohio, Dec. 9.—The coal operators of the state having absolutely refused to concede anything to the miners employed in the company store mines, there remains every prospect of a state strike. The cash operators are hopeful that when it is ordered they will be exempted from its operations' and they think that a policy of this sort would bring the company store operators around more quickly than any other.

JUMPED THE TRACK.

Locomotive Wrecked in the Suburbs of New York City.

Engineer and Two Brakemen Crushed to Death and the Conductor and Fireman Cut and Scalded.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Three men were killed and two more injured in a railroad wreck yesterday on the New York and New Haven railway in Harlem. The killed are:

Thomas Fitzgerald, engineer, thirty-eight years old.

Frederick Maples, brakeman, forty years old.

Thomas C. M'Nally, brakeman, forty years old.

The injured are: Thomas Bannon, conductor, cut and scalded; Thomas McKeon, fireman, cut and scalded. All of the killed and injured are residents of this city.

The accident occurred between 132d and 133d streets. The engine, No. 16, of the company's equipment, was used as a switching engine, and was bound east to Van Nest station, with its crew of five men. The location of the accident was a short curve, and no explanation of what was responsible for the trouble could be ascertained. Everything was in its proper shape apparently, and the engine and its tender were proceeding along at its usual speed, when, without any warning, the engine left the track and went bumping along over the ties. Bannon, the conductor, and McKeon, the fireman, leaped for their lives at the moment the engine toppled over across the westbound track before the others of the crew were able to save themselves from being crushed beneath the weight of the boiler.

Police and fire alarms were at once turned in. The firemen went to work with their axes and cut away all the woodwork of the cab, and in that way were able to take out the bodies of Fitzgerald and Maples, both of whom were pinned down by the cab. The body of McNally, however, was under the boiler, and the firemen were not able to release it. A wrecking crew was sent for from the company's yard, and the work of lifting up the engine, which lay on its side, was begun. After many hours of labor the engine was jacked up and the body of McNally was taken out. All of the bodies were crushed and scalded, death evidently having been instantaneous. Fitzgerald's head protruded through the window of the engine cab, and he was sitting on his seat at his duty when the accident happened.

ANOTHER BOND ISSUE.

Financial Affairs Trending in That Direction.

The Condition of the Exchange Market Points to Further Withdrawals of Gold From the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The statement is made by persons who are among those best qualified to judge, that in the absence of legislation to relieve the financial situation another bond issue is altogether probable within the next few months at the farthest. The present condition of the exchange market, and the commercial situation generally, it is said, point unmistakably to further large withdrawals of gold, and without something is done to prevent the usual heavy exports during January and February, which, for the last two years, have forced the issue of bonds to recoup the depleted gold reserve, a similar situation will confront the treasury before the new year is far advanced. The available cash balance in the treasury today, including the reserve, is approximately $175,500,000, and as the government has realized from its three bond issues about $182,000,000, it appears that but for these issues the government would now be without one dollar in the treasury and in addition would have outstanding obligations amounting to about $9,500,000. In the meantime the excess of expenditures over receipts amount to about $130,000,000. The exports of gold during the last four months have been as follows:

August, $16,367,000; September, $17,424 000; October, $2,165,000; November, $16,000 000; so far during December, $3 540,000; making a total of $55,596,020.

So far this calendar year, the exports of gold amount to about $95,000 000. In 1894 the exports amounted to $51,819 924. From the best information obtainable it is believed that the present month will show a surplus of at least $1,000 000, which will leave the deficit for the fiscal year to January 1, about $15,000,000. It is expected that this amount will not be materially increased during the remaining months of the fiscal year.

Many Wrecks.

LONDON, Dec. 9.—A special despatch from Rome announces that numerous wrecks have occurred during the great storms which have swept over Italy. Much damage has been done, especially along the coasts.

The Perrins Comet is Again Observed.

It Has Grown Much Brighter and is Now Visible to the Naked Eye.

MOUNT HAMILTON, Cala., Dec. 9.—The Perrins comet was again observed here this morning, at the Lick observatory, after an interval of several days of cloudy weather. The comet has grown much brighter and is now visible to the naked eye. It is a hazy object, of about the fourth magnitude, and now rises about five hours and fifteen minutes in the morning, a little south of east. As it is rapidly nearing the sun it will continue to rise later each morning. December 16 it will cross the sun about 7° to the south and will then become an evening object, but will rather be visible in the northern hemisphere. The nearest approach to the sun will occur on December 18th, at a distance of about 18,000,000. On December 17th the comet will attain its maximum brightness as seen from the earth, being at that time over eighty times as bright as at its discovery. About December 17 it will be farthest from the sun at a distance of about 13°, when it will again approach the sun, passing 8° to the north on January 11, when it again will become a morning object. It is now situated in the eastern part of the constellation Libra in the right ascension fifteen hours, twenty-one minutes and south declination. A photograph was taken this morning by A. L. Colton, and it shows the tail to be composed of one long streamer and several short ones. The principal streamer is much curved and bent and shows a condensation similar to the phenomena which have been photographed in several of the brighter comets of recent years.

JOURNALIST DEAD.

George A. Sala, the Author and Poet, Dies at London.

LONDON, Dec. 9.—George Augustus Sala, journalist, author and poet, died yesterday. The illness which has terminated in his death was of long duration. For a number of months past his remarkable powers have been waning, due to a general breaking up of his physical system. He had already attained the age of sixty-seven after a life of tremendous activity in the literary world. He was the foremost journalist whom London has given to the world, a character so unique in all that he did that his personality had as much to do with his success as his abilities. He was born in London in 1828. In the early part of his career he became a contributor of articles to newspapers and magazines. He founded and was the first editor of the Temple Bar Magazine. He visited the United States in 1863 as special correspondent for the Daily Telegraph, and in the latter part of the following year published the result of his observations under the title of "America in the Midst of War."

PROBABLY NOT CORRECT.

The Report That Ex-President Harrison Will Marry.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 9.—The report of the possible marriage of ex-President Harrison and Mrs. Dimmock, the niece of the late Mrs. Harrison, is not received with credit by friends of the family. A correspondent made bold enough to question the general concerning the rumor, but his only response was, "Please don't ask me such a question," and he was not pressed. Every few months some one makes bold to say that ex-President Harrison contemplates re-marriage, and quite recently his name was coupled with that of a rich widow of Vincennes. This story had no foundation in fact, and is simply a sample of the idle gossip set afloat. Those who know anything of General Harrison's devotion to his dead wife do not believe that he will ever remarry.

WENT ON WITH HIS SERMON.

Man Falls Dead in a Church. But the Preacher Continued.

BUTTE, Mont., Dec. 9.—George Bretherton, a wealthy rancher living near Meeker, aged seventy-nine, who has been visiting his sons, prominent merchants in Butte, dropped dead in the Mountain View Methodist church yesterday morning, during services. The body was removed from the church and Rev. Mr. Rollins, without interruption, continued his sermon.

PEORIA BARBERS DIVIDED.

White Men Defy the Cody Law and Keep Open on Sunday.

PEORIA, Ill., Dec. 9.—The white barbers kept their shops open yesterday, but all the negroes remained closed. They claim that they have not been shown proper consideration, and threaten to commence legal prosecution this morning.

Peculiar Verdict.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 9.—The coroner rendered his verdict in the central viaduct disaster today. He failed to find sufficient evidence of an act committed or omitted on the part of any person to warrant him in holding anyone criminally liable for the accident. He concluded that the seventeen victims of the disaster came to their deaths as a result of injuries sustained or from drowning in the river.

Severe Storms.

BERNE SWITZERLAND, Dec. 9.—The severe storms which have prevailed over Switzerland during this last few days and throughout Europe in general, have caused great damage, especially in the villages in the mountain districts of Switzerland. An earthquake shock was felt at Hasli, also known as Ober-Hasli, in this section.

BAD INDIANS CAUGHT.

Murderous Apaches Captured by the Seventh Cavalry.

Others Still at Large and Pursued by Troops---Nine People Killed in Arizona Last Week.

FORT GRANT, A. T., Dec 9.—The party of White mountain Apache Indians missing from the camp on the San Carlos reservation and which is supposed to have murdered Merrill and his daughter near Solomonville three days ago, was arrested and brought into San Carlos agency late last night by a detachment of Captain Bell's troop of the Seventh Cavalry and the Indian police. The party consisted of seven men and a boy, all mounted and heavily armed, two of them carrying cavalry carbines that fit the identical bullet which brought Merrill and his daughter to their untimely end. The Indians claim to have been hunting in the mountains near Fort Thomas, and the fifty miles from these mountains to the Gila Bonita valley, in which Merrill and his daughter were killed, is only a step for these wild Apaches. They are being held under guard at San Carlos for further investigation, but there is very little doubt that Colonel Bell has the true murderers. A prominent cattle man at Fort Thomas reports having seen a party of six or seven Indians near the trail leading to the valley in which the killing took place. Evidently these are the same Indians.

CONGRESSIONAL NEWS.

Senate Confirms the Nominations of Rufus Peckham,

Judges Springer, Kilgore and Stuart---The House Settles Down to Business.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The senate judiciary committee has reported on the nomination of Rufus W. Peckham, of New York, to be associate justice of the supreme court, favorably, which insures his confirmation. The judiciary committee also agreed to report favorably the nomination of Judges Springer, Kilgore and Stuart.

The populist senators have changed their former decision concerning the organization of the senate and have now agreed among themselves to interpose no objection to the republicans taking control. They will act together and will withdraw as such and allow the republicans to elect their candidates for the senate offices. They may possibly nominate a candidate for president protem, but they will not press his claim nor continue his candidacy so as to materiall delay the organization.

The first business proposition brought forward in the house today was a bill by Mr. Hopkins to amend the statute fixing the customs district of Chicago so that the district would embrace all of the states of Illinois and Indiana. Mr. Hopkins explained that the bill was in the interest of the smelters of Aurora, who desired to be able to pay the duties on Canadian ores at the port of Chicago. At present, he said, Aurora was not interested. The bill was passed by unanimous consent.

The oath of office was then administered to Mr. Price, democrat, of Louisiana, who had not been present at the previous meetings of the house. A resolution was passed for the appointment of three new assistants to the superintendent of the document room, as was also a resolution for the appointment of Isaac Hill, of Ohio, as a deputy sergeant-at arms, and the three other employes agreed upon by the democratic caucus.

MONSTER PETITION.

For Cuban Independence Introduced by Congressman Royce.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Representative Royce, of Indiana, yesterday presented to the house a monster petition containing 92,000 names, praying that the Cuban insurgents be recognized as belligerents. The petition originated at Elkhart and was circulated in nearly every state and territory in the union. It is labeled "A petition in the interest of humanity and the cause of freedom," and requests congress to take "such action as shall result in the speedy recognition (as belligerents) of the Cuban patriots."

NYP. AND O. RECEIVER.

Daniel Babst, of Crestline, is Appointed by the Courts.

MARION, Ohio, Dec 9.—Daniel Babst, jr., of Crestline, was appointed receiver of the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio railroad, by Judge Norris, of the common pleas court, this morning. John Todd had been appointed receiver by the Summit county court, but Judge Norris held that the action was taken without jurisdiction. A bitter legal fight will follow. The appointment of a receiver was caused by reason of the indebtedness of the road, which amounts to $87,000,000.

RECEIVER APPOINTED.

The Burkhardt Cloak Firm in Hard Luck.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 9.—Louis Kramer was today appointed receiver of the A. E. Burkhardt company, on a suit brought by Albert Eichelbrecher, the brother in law of Burkhardt. Liabilities, $250,000; assets, $280,000. The firm is the largest here in the line of cloaks and furs.

A WEAK CASE.

The Common Opinion of the Cunningham Murder Trial.

Most of the Observers Think Cunningham Will Not be Convicted---The Detective's Mix-Up.

There is much speculation as to the outcome of the Cunningham trial at Columbia City. It seems to be the common opinion, however, that the state has made out but a weak case against the young man who is on trial for his life. Most of those who have paid any attention to the case think that the officers have not yet captured the man who so brutally murdered the old postmaster at Dunfee on the 17th of September.

The prosecution had spent much time in preparing for the trial of Cunningham, and promised many sensational developments, but thus far, and the state's evidence is nearly all in, these sensations have not yet been shown up. The principal feature in that direction was the production of the bloody clothing which had been found in the possession of Cunningham. This, however, the defense claims it will be able to account for in such a way as will do away with its weight as evidence.

Another thing that has resulted favorably to the defense is the conflicting testimony given by Detective Rayhouser, of this city. Rayhouser testified at the preliminary hearing that Cunningham confessed to him that he had killed old man Singer. He said that this confession was made to him on the eleventh of October. At the trial on Saturday, Rayhouser took the witness stand and testified that the confession was made to him on October 8th. His explanation of this conflict of dates was that he named the eleventh day of October at the preliminary trial in order to fool the attorneys for the defense and get them mixed up. This made a bad hole in the evidence for the prosecution.

It seems to be the universal opinion of the Fort Wayne people who have attended the trial and who have been witnesses that Cunningham will not be convicted. And yet there is no telling what a jury will do.

There was no other important testimony Saturday except that Abe Beck, to whom it is alleged also that Cunningham made a confession, testified that he had known the defendant for a number of years and that he knew him to be a big blow-hard and a common liar. Beck said that Cunningham frequently told of doing things that his hearers knew he did not do and could not do.

A SMOOTH BURGLAR.

Residence of Rev. A. W. Seabrease Robbed

While the Family Was at Church Sunday Night---A Burglar Stole Money and Jewelry.

Burglars visited the residence of Rev. A. W. Seabrease, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, on West Berry street, last night and made a rich haul.

The family was attending services at the church, which is in the same lot with the parsonage. Some time between 7:30 and 8:30 o'clock the burglar pried open a side window and thus gained entrance to the house. He went up stairs to the sleeping rooms and ransacked the place. In the drawers of two bureaus he found the plunder he was seeking. He took a sum of money which he found there and also a lot of jewelry. The jewelry was quite valuable and it was of special value to the family because several of the pieces were heirlooms that had been in the family for many years. A number of medals were also stolen. The value of the haul made by the robber was not learned but Rev. Seabrease said to THE SENTINEL this morning that it would reach a considerable sum. From all appearances it would seem that the house had been watched by the robber and that when the family all left the house he entered.

The police were notified at once of the burglary and officers were put to work on the clues that could be obtained.

BEFORE THE BOARD.

C. E. Everett Will Again Talk Street Railway Business.

This afternoon C. E. Everett is expected to appear before the board of public works in the interest of his street railway franchise. It is the general understanding about the city hall that some definite action will be taken in the matter within a very short time—perhaps this week.

VERY, VERY QUIET.

Business is Dull in the Police Department.

The Patrol Wagon Horses Given a Run for Exercise---The Stray Boys Go Home.

Business among the policemen is so dull that this afternoon the patrol wagon team was taken out by Driver Fred Gallmeyer and given a run about town just for exercise. It has been several days since the wagon has been called upon to make a run.

STRAY BOYS SENT HOME.

J. F. Comer and N. W. Trimble, jr., the two boys whom the police took care of for several days, started on their way to their homes in Birmingham, Ala., yesterday. The boys went east to see the football game between Yale and Princeton on Thanksgiving and lost all their money by betting on the game. They started home and got as far as this city, where the police took them in. Lieutenant Lapp learned their story and telegraphed their parents, and Saturday evening he received remittances and tickets for them with instructions to send the boys home without delay. They started yesterday. The boys are well educated and come from good families. Comer's father is a wealthy lumber man and Trimble's father is in the employ of the government.

A MAN AND HIS VICTIM.

Officer Hines was called to the Fanny Joy resort in the jail flats last Saturday evening by a telephone message which stated that a stranger was taking a girl to the place against her will. The couple passed the county jail and those who saw them say that the girl was trying to get away from the fellow, but that she was unable to make her escape. Hines went to the house and was told that the couple came there and the man wanted to rent a room, but that he did not get it. They then went to Clinton street and came back down town. The inmate of the house with whom Hines talked said that it was plain that the girl was forced to accompany the man. The girl is from a very respectable family, but the man was unknown. The police will try to find him.

Sheriff Clausmeier was at home sick at the time and was unable to get out out of the house. As soon as Deputy Bird Wiley came in, Mr. Clausmeier sent him out to see about the matter and Wiley also notified the police and went with Hines to the house. If Mr. Clausmeier had been able to get out of his room he would have investigated the case himself.

THE COURTS.

One Divorce Granted---Liquor License Remonstrance,

Provoke Case---Marriage Licenses---Arrests for Disturbing a Religious Meeting.

Magdelina Swartz has been given a divorce from Christian Swartz. Plaintiff gets custody of children.

ARE YOU THIN?

Do You Want to Become Fleshy?

A FEW SIMPLE RULES

Flesh and Not Fat Is What Is Needed.

What thin people want is flesh and not fat. To be symmetrical and properly proportioned, every person should have a certain amount of flesh. To be plump does not necessarily mean to be fat. Fat is undesirable, it clogs and retards the action of every muscle, interferes with the healthy action of the heart and lungs, and when excession predisposes of fatty degeneration of vital organs; to say nothing of the discomfort more or less, resulting from excessive dispose tissue.

Common sense would suggest, that if one wishes to become fleshy and plump, the thing most needed would be flesh forming foods, in other words albuminous foods, like eggs, beef, oatmeal, etc. The kinds of food that make flesh are the foods that form the greater part of our daily bill of fare.

Now, the only reason so many people remain thin is because their stomachs do not properly and completely digest and assimilate the flesh-forming beef steak and eggs we eat every day.

There are thousands of such people and they are really dyspeptics, although they may not suffer any particular pain or inconvenience from their stomachs. If such persons would take with their meals some preparation like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the food would be quickly digested and the proper degree of plumpness very soon secured, because these Tablets are prepared exactly for that purpose. They will digest every variety of flesh-forming food, which is the sole reason why they so quickly build up and strengthen thin, dyspeptic men and women.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure dyspepsia and every form of indigestion on this common sense plan, that they digest the food promptly, giving strength to every nerve and organ in the body, while at the same time the stomach has a chance to rest and recover its natural vigor. Nothing further is required to cure any stomach trouble or to make thin, dyspeptic people strong, plump and well.

This excellent preparation is manufactured by the Stuart Chemical Co., Marshall, Mich., and sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package.

EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST—SUPPER.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided for our breakfast and supper a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

DECEMBER 9th! And we haven't had good sleighing yet.

QUESTIONS of the hour—Who for congress? Who for mayor?

The pay days of the month are here and large amounts of money will be put into circulation.

The religious revival spirit continues. Several of our city churches are holding meetings this week.

The methods of the Salvation Army are peculiar, but the ends it seeks to accomplish are all right.

The good effects of the Chapman evangelistic meetings are now being shown in the addition of a large number of new members to our city churches.

It is now asserted that the sultan of Turkey has lost his mind. There is nothing in his past record to show that he will be seriously inconvenienced by this misadventure.

SEVENTEEN men were excused from jury service in Chicago in one day because they could neither read nor write. The papers in that city were not put down to a cent a copy one day too soon.

CHINA is waking up at last. The emperor has ordered the immediate construction of a first class double track railroad from Pekin to Tien-Tsin. There is often much virtue in a good, sound thrashing.

SPEAKER REED'S policy of do nothing to disturb the confidence of the next republican national convention is good as far as it goes, but as between a wool tax and a beer tax, where would he prefer to have the disturbance located?

IF YOU want a good Christmas present for a friend send him or her THE DAILY SENTINEL for a year. As it reaches its destination each day it will remind them of the sender. Try THE SENTINEL as a Christmas gift. We know it will prove an acceptable present.

At the meeting of the city council tomorrow night the ordinance taxing telegraph, telephone and other poles, for the stretching of wires, will come up for consideration. The merits of this ordinance have been frequently discussed in THE SENTINEL'S columns. The sentiment of the people is in favor of its passage.

AN analysis of the bologna sausage sold in the open market at San Barnadino showed it to consist of 75 per cent burned potatoes and 25 per cent. rotten meat dipped in a patent substance called "Smokine," to give it a smoky flavor. There are worse things in the world after all than minced dog meat stuffed in "casings"

BREAD, which has been considered the staff of life throughout the world, is actually used only by one third of the fifteen hundred millions of inhabitants of the globe. In the Pampas regions dried beef is the main staff; in Eastern Asia rice, and along the coasts of Spanish America the banana constitutes the daily meal.

THE SENTINEL has a great treat in store for all of its readers tomorrow. We have arranged with C. L. Lacklin, the chef at the Wayne hotel, to publish all his "tried and true" recipes and will commence the same tomorrow in this department. He is a cook of national fame and we know our readers will highly appreciate anything coming from him.

IT may not be generally known that the origin of the "baker's dozen" dates back to the days of Edward, the First's reign in England. At that time rigid laws were enacted concerning the sale of bread, and so severe was the penalty for falling short in the dozen loaves that the bakers preferred to give thirteen loaves rather than to run any risk of punishment

A KANSAS district has a written contract with a teacher to teach the school, chop the wood, make the fire, sweep, and find the matches for $35 a month The teacher is a woman. If she is a 'new woman," the contract is all right as far as the requirements are concerned. The price paid for the services, however, is not in accord with the "new woman's" ideas

MAYOR STRONG, of New York, calls attention to the fact that 8,000 saloons are carried on in that city, or nearly three times as many proportionately as are found in Philadelphia, where high license produce a large revenue. Another item mentioned is that since the Sunday closing law has been enforced deposits in the New York savings banks have increased $15,000,000.

IT IS NOT generally known that Georgia was the first state in the union to pass an ordinance against slavery. This was way back in the days before the institution had secured a foothold and was the natural sentiment of liberty loving colonists, who were opposed to any form of human tyranny. If Georgia had stuck to that ordinance it would have saved itself a great deal of trouble.

ARCHDEACON FARRAR once said: "He who never connects God with his daily life knows nothing of the spiritual meaning and uses of life; nothing of the calm, strong patience with which ills may be endured, of the gentle, tender comfort which the Father's love can minister; of the blessed rest to be realized in his forgiving love, his tender Fatherhood; of the deep, peaceful sense of the infinite one ever near, a refuge and a strength"

AS A result of the election last Saturday in the Forty-eighth legislative district of Kentucky, of A. J. Carroll, democrat, the legislature of that state is left with a tie, politically, on joint ballot. The balloting for United States senator to succed Senator Blackburn is likely to result in a deadlock. On joint ballot, the republicans and democrats will have 58 votes each, the populists two, and it is pretty well assured that the populist vote will split.

HALF a million workers, of almost every skilled trade, are represented at the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, whose opening session began at New York city today The most important matter to come before the convention will be the plan for the general introduction of the eight-hour day. At the Denver convention last year it was voted to make an attempt in this direction on May 1, 1896, and it is expected that some definite plan will be mapped out by the New York convention.

GEORGE W. WENDLING calls attention to the fatalities which have recently fallen upon the lecture field. First come the death of Eugene Field, with a long line of platform engagements ahead of him. Then Professor Ragan, the finest illustrated lecturer next to Stoddard, died while lecturing in Atlanta. Then, ten days ago, Bill Nye broke down physically. Then the celebrated traveler, Colonel Sanford, died on a lecture tour in Colorado. Last week Major Dane, a very popular lecturer, died and was buried at sea on his way home from Australia And now comes word that Joseph Cook is seriously ill in Calcutta, India. Then there is the pathetic experiences of Senator Hill and Dick Bland, which Mr. Wendling fails to note.

IN THE Venezuelan controversy England seems to be sparring for time. Lord Salisbury is laying the ropes for a prolonged correspondence regarding the disputed boundary line. Nobody believes that England covets a fight with America. Its utmost powers are now taxed in preserving the peace of Europe. In the very remote event of a clash of arms with the United States, England would have nothing upon which to base the hope that the United States would be worsted. It has seen too much of the American faculty for rising to great emergencies to believe that. So, while there is no motive on the part of Great Britain for inviting a conflict with the United States, it cannot repress the greed which has always made it covetous for foreign territory, and it will postpone to the last moment a surrender of its alleged rights in Venezuela, though it is not believed that it would defend them in the face of justice and at the hazard of a war with the most powerful nation on the globe.

MISS MERICA HOAGLAND is the editor and publisher of the Public Occurrent, the first number of which has just been issued. It is handsome in typographical appearance, and well edited, and contains a large amount of reading matter of a local and general character, which will make it interesting to the ladies of the various literary clubs of the city. In its prospectus it says: "Locals, personals, railroad time tables amusements; society, fashion, book and club notes; items of interest pertaining to philanthropy, religion, education and libraries will all find a place in our columns, while our literary department will contain articles of a high order of merit. Though this journal is the official organ of the Woman's Club League, it purposes to publish interesting items and selected articles from any literary, art or musical club in Fort Wayne or elsewhere." Miss Hoagland is one of the most accomplished writers in the city, and, as she is a recognized authority on all literary club matters, the Public Occurrent will prove popular with its readers.

School Children and Music.

That Americans can make music is proved by the fact that this country has produced some leading professional singers. Nevertheless our system of teaching children to sing in the public schools has for some reason been little else than a failure. It has not taught young people to read music at sight generally. It has not mellowed their voices from the hard, somewhat shrill cackle complained of by musically cultivated foreigners who listen to our public school singing.

The musical teaching in our public schools lasts long enough and costs enough to make the children good singers, yet it has thus far failed to make any permanent impression.

The reason probably is that the children's love for music is not developed. The popular musical taste of the country has not advanced beyond the Moody and Sankey hymns and the trashy variety airs. So far as real music goes the common variety song contains about as much of it as the queer, discordant notes that pass for music among the Chinese, yet it is whistled on the streets, played by the nickel in the slot machine, and very often sung to piano music in refined homes. A large proportion of our people believe these rattly airs to be music.

The public schools are the agency by which the Americans can be made a musical people. That the teaching of singing in them thus far has been generally a failure proves only that the right methods have not been found yet. It certainly seems to have been discovered and utilized in the schools of Dedham and Brookline, Mass. It has advanced so far there that the pupils are able to read difficult music at sight. They have also, with the assistance of professional soloists, been able to perform such great compositions as "The Messiah." Orchestras of both wind and stringed instruments are maintained successfully by the pupils. What these Massachusetts towns have done any other town, city or village in America can do. Now is the time to begin.

The extreme northern limit of icebergs up to date has been recorded at the United States hydrographic office. It is just off Capes Charles and Henry, at the entrance to the Chesapeake, where a British steamer passed a chunk of ice 400 feet long and 30 feet high. It is a cold day for Great Britain most everywhere just now.

It looks as if the delay, stumbling and hesitation of the sultan in accepting the ultimatum of the powers were intended to prolong the issne till the Turks had killed all the Armenians off the face of the earth. Then there could be no longer any Armenian question.

Some of our distinguished Americans are very much admired away from home. The farther away from home the more they seem to be admired.

People who spend the least time thinking about their ailments and misfortunes are the happiest and luckiest.

Wanted to Pay in Installments.

A man went into a dentist's shop to have a tooth extracted, but as he thought the dentist's charges were rather high, he asked if he couldn't pay on the installment plan. "Certainly," replied the dentist; "but when a patient pays in installments we pull the tooth on the installment plan, also."

"How's that?"

"My charge for pulling a tooth is $5."

"So you said."

"Very well. How much a week do you propose to pay?"

"About 25 cents."

"All right. Get into this chair and I will pull on the tooth 25 cents' worth, and you can pay the first installment. Come in again next week and I will jerk the second installment out of you, and the next"—

A Devoted Son-in-Law.

Count de Vermicelli, an Italian nobleman now in New York, is engaged to be married to Miss Maud Snobberly of Fifth avenue.

One of the guests at a recent social gathering at the Snobberly mansion asked old Mrs. Snobberly (she used to be a servant girl), how she liked her prospective son-in-law.

She replied: "Me and Mr. Snobberly are both tickled to death with Count de Vermicelli, and the way he is stuck on Maud is a sin. You can have no idea of how the Count dotes on that gal. Everything in the world that he imagines she wants he makes us buy for her."

Water-Tight Compartment.

When Mr. Boozle landed in New York from a Liverpool steamer the other day, he gave every appearance of having had a long and severe tussle with the flowing bowl. A friend was on the dock to meet him, and when he perceived his condition he said:

"Are there water-tight compartments in your ship, Boozle?"

"Betcher life. Chuck full of 'em."

"I thought so. And you had one, didn't you?"

"I'dno. Why?"

"You don't look as though a drop of water got into you during the entire voyage."

THE LITTLE DUCHESS.

WHO MAY YET RULE OVER ALL THE RUSSIAS.

Named Olga by Her Mother—Beautiful Character of the Czarina—America Feels a Friendly Interest in the Progress of Russia.

THE mother of the little grand duchess of Russia has given her the name of Olga. If the Romanoff dynasty continues to reign Olga will one day become empress of all the Russias. That country is now the largest empire in the world ruled by one government. Americans will take great interest in the progress of the nation that emerged from a state of semi-barbarism at the same time that this nation was born. The first act done by civilized Russia was to materially assist the United States in subduing England in the war of the revolution. In all our wars Russia has been our friend. And in turn this country has been Russia's friend. When her treasury was empty we gave her gold, we have given her soldiers and railroad builders. Now Russia is about to adopt our common school system. So it is quite natural that Americans feel a friendly interest in the progressive strides being made by Russia.

THE CZARINA OF RUSSIA.

The czarina is one of Queen Victoria's many grandchildren. She is the youngest child of the late Grand Duke and Duchess of Hesse-Darmstadt. Her mother, Princess Alice, perhaps the most popular member of the English royal family, died when the little Alix was only six years of age, and from that time the child was cared for almost exclusively by her grandmother, Queen Victoria, whose special favorite she has always been. She was surrounded by nurses, attendants and governesses, selected at Windsor and Balmoral, with the result that the future czarina grew up more English in sentiment and training than many of her English cousins. Princess Alix was called by this curious modification of her mother's name because Queen Victoria found that the name of Alice was so badly pronounced by the Germans. The little princess received in addition the names of her aunts, Helena, Victoria Louise, and Beatrice. In her childhood she was called "Sunny," from the brightness of her temperament, but after the loss of her mother and father—the grand duke died in 1892—she became more serious. From childhood she was remarkable for a distinct character and individuality of her own, and this was shown last year in connection with her entry into the Eastern Orthodox church. For the last seven centuries nearly all the czars have gone abroad for their brides, who, in every instance, have been baptized into the Russian faith. In the case of Princess Alix a difficulty arose. She refused to say that her "former religion was accursed; that her conversion to the Russian faith was due to her conviction that her own religion was not founded upon truth," as the law of the Russian church required.

Never before had the holy synod of Russia had to face such a refusal. Argument was in vain. "I merely join the Greek church that I may be of one faith with my future husband," she said firmly. And the holy synod of Russia had to make this highly important and unprecedented concession to the young German girl, who not even for the crown of an empire would condemn the religion of her forefathers. At her baptism in Russia she received the names Alexandra Feodorovna, and the czar afterward conferred upon her the rank of grand duchess of the empire.

The firmness of character which the czarina possesses has never overshadowed the more graceful qualities of her disposition. She is not stiff, but lively, graceful, and "elegante," in the Parisian sense of the word; she is sensitive, impulsive, sympathetic, and witty. She is beautiful, of the refined, fair-haired, blue-eyed type of beauty, with finely chiseled features, a clear complexion and large, bright, laughing eyes. Her accomplishments are more than ordinary. She is an admirable linguist, expert at needlework, very musical, a good player on the pianoforte, and an excellent artist. She is a skillful rider, and, after the fashion of young Englishwomen, was devoted to outdoor sports, delighting in tennis, boating, and skating. In Darmstadt, the Hessian residence, her popularity was unbounded.

Krasnoe Zelo, "the red hamlet," where the czarina now lies, is a village some fifty miles from St. Petersburg, on the borders of Finland. It is full of little toy cottages, which recall memories of Trouville and Dieppe. There is a military camp there, and in the village is situated the Imperial School of Pages, where the scions of Russian nobility are educated, and from which they pass as officers into the guard regiments. The imperial palace was built by Catherine II. It stands in the midst of a magnificent park, and in its general appearance is suggestive of Versailles. It is one of the most magnificent palaces in the world, and is full of most costly art treasures.

MISSIONARIES DOING WELL.

John W. Foster Says that China Is Being Christianized.

The Hon. John W. Foster, ex-secretary of state and late confidential adviser to the Emperor of China, said in a recent address: "I may say in a general way that my observations have confirmed me in the belief that foreign missions are exercising a salutary influence among the people of the far East. Much good has been done in the past. Of that I am certain, and I am very sanguine that even much better results are promised for the future. Much has been said about the recent outrages in China being due to religious causes, to the hatred inspired by the efforts of our missionaries to spread the Christian religion among the people of that country. I do not think this is true, however. I think it is nothing but an outcropping of the always latent prejudice which exists toward foreigners."

ing and happy influences. His parents live in the old palace of Amalienberg, in Copenhagen. His grandfather, King Christian, carries on the affairs of his kingdom in a rather high-handed manner, paying no attention to the action of the chamber; even going so far as to devise laws which that body has rejected. But the people show no resentment and so far as appearances indicate are entirely contented with the conduct of affairs. The crown prince, father of Prince Charles, was born in 1843 and married the Crown Princess Louise of Sweden. The Princess of Wales, mother of Princess Maud, is the eldest daughter of King Christian and aunt of Princess Maud's future husband.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 9.—Judge Baker, of the federal court, closed up the papers by which the sale is effected of the South Bend and Mishawaka electric railroad to George E. Clifford, president of the Wachusett National bank, of Richfield, Mass. The price paid was $50,000. There were present several distinguished lawyers who made arguments. It is the intention of Mr. Clifford to put the road in fine order.

WHY DO THEY?

Why do people who have bought skates from us send their friends here?

Why do the boys and girls come here for skates?

Is it sentiment or accident?

NO!

It is because nothing is harder on skates than small boys and brick sidewalks, and our skates stand the strain of both. They are hard—the skates we mean. If you see a boy with skates that he has outgrown, (this means long and hard service) ask him where they were bought.

He will say:

THE SANTA FE SALE.

The Great System Will be Disposed of Tomorrow.

The Sale Will Cover 10,000 Miles of Track, 2,000 Engines and Many Thousand Cars.

At 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, at Topeka, Kas., will occur the greatest auction the world has ever known. At that hour, J. B. Johnson, special master in chancery, will offer to the highest bidder for cash in hand, the entire system of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad. Nothing will be reserved of its 10,000 miles of track, its 2,000 locomotives, its thousands upon thousands of cars, its buildings, rights and franchises, which, considered together, reach the imperial value of $350,000,000. Special Master Johnson will act as auctioneer, and, as a preliminary to receiving bids, he will read the order of sale, judgment of the court, and other legal documents, which will consume somewhat more than an hour. There is one feature of this auction which will materially differ from the ordinary. No one will be allowed to bid unless he has first deposited $500 000 in cash with the special master as an evidence of good faith. Judge Henry C. Caldwell will go to Topeka for the purpose of confirming this sale. Among those who will be present at the sale are: Edward King, president of the Union Trust company, of New York; Wheeler H. Peckham, general counsel of the same company, and W. H. Rossington, and Charles Bloodsmith, local counsel; President Ryley, of the reorganized Santa Fe company; D. B. Robinson, first vice president; Paul Morton, third vice president; George R. Peck, general solicitor for the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul; E. D. Kenna, counsel for the receivers; Victor Morawitz, counsel for the reorganized company, and Receivers Walker and McCook.

ANDY KOONS MAKES A FAST RUN.

Another fast run on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago road has been recorded. The train was the first section of No. 7, Conductor L. Miller, hauled by engine No. 202, with Andy Koons at the throttle and W. H. Polhamus as fireman, and the time last Saturday. The 148 miles between Fort Wayne and Chicgo were covered in three hours and twenty-five minutes and that, too, under very unfavorable conditions. Five stops were made and twice the train had to side track—when it met No. 8 and No. 2. The run from Warsaw to Plymouth, twenty-four and eight-tenths miles, was made in twenty-four minutes, and from Valparaiso to Colehour, twenty-nine and one-half miles, the train consumed exactly twenty-nine minutes in covering the distance.

AN ACCIDENT AT BELLEVUE.

The gale last Saturday drove a freight car which was standing upon a Nickel Plate siding at Bellevue, Ohio, out upon the main track and the engine hauling west bound passenger train No. 3 dashed into it. The pilot was knocked off and the machinery crippled so badly that the engine could not finish the run to Fort Wayne. A freight engine was pressed into service and brought the train here, arriving an hour late. Nobody injured.

BRICK SETTLES.

Saturday afternoon the Lake Erie and Western company put up $14,000, the amount of judgment and cost in the Craig damage suit, and the nine locomotives and thirty cars loaded with coal, which had been seized by the sheriff at Lima, Ohio, were released. Craig was run over by a yard engine and both legs cut off.

UNLUCKY THIRTEEN.

Those who entertain a superstition about No. 13 being unlucky may be interested in knowing that for several years the Lake Shore road had a No. 13 express train, and as long as it run under that number it never met with the slightest mishap. It was so singularly free from all trouble that it became noted on the road. A short time ago, says the Laporte Argus, the number was changed and almost immediately accidents began to happen to it and they have since been of frequent occurrence, although none of them have been very serious.

FEDERAL LABOR UNION.

As a result of the meeting of the representatives of the laboring men of Fort Wayne last Saturday evening, a federal labor union, to be operated under the auspices of the American Federation of Labor, will be organized here. The meeting had been announced and its objects explained by the city papers and when the appointed hour arrived a large crowd of interested persons assembled at Kasten & Kohlmeyer's cigar factory, on Calhoun street, where it was arranged the meeting should be held After a further explanation of the aims and purposes of the union by the organizer of the Indiana Federation of Trades and Labor councils, who was present, a temporary organization was effected, of which John Koch was made chairman and Edward Miller secretary. Another meeting will be held tomorrow evening at Knights of Labor hall, when a permanent organization will be effected on the plan outlined in these columns last Thursday.

BRIEF MENTION.

W. J. Neizer was the guest of friends in Hartford City over Sunday.

Pittsburg engines 50, 124 and 159 went into the shops for repairs today.

Charles Robertson, hammer boy at the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, is taking a two weeks' lay off.

After a few days' illness John C. Heine, a boilermaker, has returned to his duties at the Bass works.

F. Turner, of the Pittsburg copper shop, and J. J. Woodworth, of the boiler shop, are on the sick list today.

After a month's illness, Boilermaker Fred Nahrwald was able to resume work in the Pittsburg shops this morning.

Frank Scheid, who had a hand injured some time ago, resumed work in the Pittsburg machine shop this morning.

Edward E. Tierney has returned from a wedding tour and this morning resumed his work in the Pittsburg machine shop.

John Blank has been promoted from a boiler washer to an inspector and assigned to duties at night in the Pittsburg roundhouse.

Local ticket agents have been authorized to continue the sale of tickets on account of the cotton states exposition, until December 26.

A. Schirmeyer, engine wiper in the Pittsburg round house, is working again after an absence of three weeks on account of an injured back.

Blacksmith Henry Danmeyer, of the Pittsburg shops, is sick. Charles Dean, of the same shop, is detained at home by the sickness of his wife.

The Lake Erie and Western has just completed at its own shops, in Peru, Ind., fifty refrigerator cars for a brewing company in Cincinnati.

The advent of winter has thrown fully one thousand men out of employment on Indiana lines, section and bridge forces being the most affected.

The venerable William Boag has recovered from a two months' illness and this morning reported for duty at the Pittsburg machine shop. John Shuster, another machinist, who was disabled some time by a lame hand, also resumed work this morning.

Pittsburg Engineer Max Horning is sick.

George Stocks, Wabash car inspector, is off duty on account of sickness.

Arthur Collett, clerk in the Wabash offices, spent Sunday in St. Louis.

Ed Hanley is sick and off duty. He is employed at the electric works.

John Likey, of the electric works, has recovered from his recent illness.

Alex Henderson, stationary engineer at the Wabash shops, is slowly recovering from his severe illness.

Mrs. George Fosler, wife of the Wabash conductor, has returned from a visit with friends in Toledo.

E. A. Porter has returned from Pittsburg, where he went some days ago in the interest of the Electric corporation.

Charles Eikoff, formerly a foreman of one of the departments at the electric works, is visiting friends in the city today.

Ed Belden, one of the electric light construction men, came in off the road last night, after an absence of several months.

Foreman Daniel Campbell, of the Wabash blacksmith shop, has returned to the city after a sojurn of a week at Ossian, Ind.

Wabash shopmen who were out of town yesterday were E F. Needham and G. J. DeVilbiss, at Montpelier; William Littlejohn, at Peru; W. S. Smith, at Andrews, and Fred Parker, fireman, at Toledo.

Fred Starke, jr., of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, had the palm of his right hand split open upon a sharp iron Saturday. He will be unable to work for a few days

James M. Brown, of Valparaiso, has brought suit against the Nickel Plate for damages by fire alleged to have been caused by the carelessness of an employe of the railway company.

The absentee list in the Pittsburg car shops on Lafayette street contains the names of P. Poiry, J. Davis, F. Tassler, C. Bender, G. Gans, W. E Shafer and F. Manier, all of whom are supposed to be sick.

Foreman Joseph Slater, of the Bass blacksmith shop, is increasing the force a little. This morning H. Weist and William Friday were given employment and tonight six other new men will commence work.

The Pittsburg blacksmith shop, which was slightly crippled last week by sickness among the employes, is in much better shape today, the following men having returned to work: John Slater, Henry Beckness, Al Throckmorton, Fred Lecz, H. C. Meyers, Frank Meyers and John P. Schmidt.

The Pennsylvania railroad has given to the Young Men's Christian Association the building in Camden, N. J., formerly occupied by the Third street Methodist church. The company will give the Y. M. C. A. $1,500 toward fitting up the building and $1 300 a year toward maintenance of expenses.

The approaching wedding of Mr. Charles O. Miller and Miss Georgia Develin has been announced. It will take place on the 17th inst. Mr. Miller is the stationary engineer at the Wabash shops and Miss Develin is the daughter of William Develin, the head watchman at the same establishment.

It was rumored here this morning that ex General Manager C. M. Hays, of the Wabash, was lying ill at his home in St. Louis. A telegraphic message from that city this morning stated that Mr. Hays was suffering with a severe cold, but was able to go down to his office and would doubtless fully recover in a few days.

A rear end collision on the Wabash at Danville Thursday night caused a costly wreck. Section 4, of freight train No. 92, ran into section 3, the engineer and fireman escaping by a jump. Merchandise, whisky, flour, toys and other holiday goods were scattered right and left. The engine was derailed and the track was blocked for about ten hours.

Class X engine 267, the first of its pattern to be built in the Fort Wayne shops, came in this morning to receive repairs to her boiler. This engine was turned out of the shops May 17, 1892, and has been constantly in service since, most of the time in hauling trains over the mountains. A short time ago No. 267 was sent here to haul fast freight trains.

A little invention for the recording the speed of locomotives will be put in use on the Union Pacific road, much to the consternation of the engineers, for it registers the time made and the time lost by slow running, as well as the time lost by stops. From this record the officials read the story of each trip and call the engineer to account. If the schedule has not been run between stations the indicators register this and the engineer must make a satisfactory explanation.

There is not the least foundation to the rumor, which for the past week has been current here, that G. W. Mudd has resigned as master mechanic of the middle division of the Wabash. Mr. Mudd only recently assumed that office and as he is thoroughly competent and has the confidence and good will of the higher officials there can be no reason for the circulation of such a report other than for malicious purposes. It was evidently the work of some person who had no regard for the truth.

Charles P. Cherry, chief clerk for Storekeeper Enoch Cox, at the Pittsburg shops, has a most interesting collection of relics of early days in this country and is constantly adding to the collection. His display at the Centennial exhibition, in the Trentman block, was very creditable and was the center of attraction in that part of the building. Last week he received from Costa Rica, South America, some rare specimens of pottery, images, etc., such as was produced there ages ago, which he has added to his Indian relics.

The Wabash is the only Fort Wayne road which is a member of the Western Traffic association and its clergymen's permits are good on thirty-five lines, covering all that territory lying between Chicago and the Pacific coast. Agent R. G. Thompson is expecting a lot of application blanks in a few days, when he will be ready to attend to the clergy of this city and vicinity. Under the new rule, clergymen are required to deposit fifty cents with their application for a permit. This is a small sum when viewed singly, but as there are over 30,000 clergymen's permits issued annually, it amounts to considerable in the aggregate and goes a good ways towards defraying the expense attached to issuing permits.

The Suspicious Litigant.

In Judge Gibbons' court the other day an old farmer from DeKalb county was the defendant in a suit for a piece of land, and his lawyer, ex-Judge Jones, had been making a strong fight for it. When the plaintiff's attorney began his argument, he said:

"May it please the court, I take the ground"—

The old farmer jumped up and sang out:

"What's that? What's that?"

The judge called him down.

"May it please the court," began the attorney, not noticing the interruption, "I take the ground"—

"No, I'll be d—d if you do, either," shouted the old farmer; "anyhow not until the jury decides the case!"—Chicago Post.

Still Near His Heart.

"Yes," pursued the wayfarer, repressing a sob, "I shall always carry near my heart a token that recalls the memory of her."

As he bowed his head to weep, he explained, as his emotion would permit, that he referred to some angel food she had made for him, and of which he had partaken.—Detroit Tribune.

The Proper Binding.

Young Wife—I want those letters bound. They are the correspondence which passed between my husband and myself before we were married. Would you recommend a seal binding?

She Obeyed Orders.

"I thought you had a good girl, Mrs. Bloom?"

"I had."

"What became of her?"

"I told her to get up early and dust."

"Well?"

"She got up and dusted."—Detroit Free Press.

For Men of Society.

What is the use of dressing up to pay a call when that cough makes you a burden to yourself and a nuisance to your friends? Take something for it. There is nothing as good as a twenty-five cent bottle of Ely's Pineola Balsam, which is soothing to the throat and beneficial in all diseases of the throat and lungs. It will releive the cough at once and in a few days you will almost forget that you have had a cough.

Mothers, Be sure and use "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for your children while cutting teeth. It is the best remedy of all. May8eod&w

At the special revival meetings which are to be held tomorrow evening and Wednesday and Thursday evenings, at the Wayne street church, Rev. Dr. Bennett, the pastor, will deliver a series of sermons in which he will explain the teachings and doctrines of the Methodists. Dr. Bennett has made himself wonderful popular with his congregation by his plain, practical, eloquent Sunday sermons and he has large audiences at every service.

A most important step was taken by organized labor of this city Saturday night, when a meeting was held at the cigar factory of Kasten & Kohlmeyer for the purpose of organizing a Federal Labor union. The meeting was well attended and those present manifested great interest in the move. A large number of the labor unions of the city were represented. A temporary organization was effected, with John Koch as president and Edward Miller as secretary. The next meeting will be held in the K. of L. hall, tomorrow evening, and all interested are invited to be present.

Siemon, Mr. Henry Siemon, Dr. Siemon, Misses Lena, Louise and Henrietta Meyer, Miss Louisa Strong and Miss Millie Heid.

Mrs. Alis Barbear entertained the members of the Carnation club Thursday. A delicious turkey dinner was served and each guest received a souvenir of carnations. A most enjoyable time was had by all. The members present were: Mesdames O. Foncanon, J. G. Zimmer, A. J. Hines, W. M. Cutler, N. Foncanon, J. S Chapman, M. Vodermark, A. Barbear and Miss K. Pence. The club will be entertained January 9th at the home of Mrs. A. J. Hines, of 47 Walnut street.

Township Trustee M. F. Schmelzer was greeted by a surprise party that called at his residence, No. 240 West Washington street, Saturday evening to celebrate with him his sixty-seventh birthday. The affair was planned by ex-County Commissioner Jones, Commissioners Stellhorn and Ferguson, Henry Hilbrecht and L. J. Geiss. About twenty-five or thirty were present and they enjoyed the event very much. The evening was pleasantly spent and at a late hour refreshments were served.

Arrangements have been made for Dr. W. W. Barnett to deliver three lectures at the city Y. M. C. A. on December 13, 20 and 27 on anatomy. The first lecture will be on the formation of bones; the second on regions and markings of bones; the third on articulation and muscular attachments and relationships. The lectures will be free to all young men. Tickets will be given out at the desk in the Y. M. C. A. a few days in advance. The lecture on December 27 will be illustrated by one of the gymnasium members.

HOW AN ADVERTISEMENT SAVED A WOMAN'S LIFE.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

"For four years I suffered with female troubles. I was so bad that I was compelled to have assistance from the bed to the chair. I tried all the doctors and the medicines that I thought would help me.

"One day, while looking over the paper, I saw the advertisement of your Vegetable Compound. I thought I would try it. I did so, and found relief. I was in bed when I first began to take the Compound. After taking four bottles, I was able to be up and walk around, and now I am doing my housework. Many thanks to Mrs. Pinkham for her wonderful Compound. It saved my life."—MRS. HATTIE MADAUS, 184 North Clark Street, Chicago, Ill.

More evidence in favor of that never-failing female remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Revival services will begin at the Baptist church tonight.

St. Margaret's Guild meets tonight with Miss Agnes Seabrease.

Miss Margaret Metcalf has accepted a position as saleslady with Dallas F. Green, the Arcade jeweler.

Lieut. Howard Laubach, of Fort Clark, Texas, will soon be married to Miss Kate Hague, of El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wolf, of South Broadway, have returned from a two weeks' visit with relatives in Connecticut.

A bag and apron sale will be held in the Y. W. C. A. rooms, 24 Washington boulevard, tomorrow afternoon from 3 to 10 o'clock.

Mrs. D. K. Creighton and children, of Chicago, will arrive next week to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. D Guild during the holidays.

Mahlon Heller is the agent for the new book of W. H. English, "The Conquest of the Northwest." The work is an excellent one and many of our leading men are subscribing for it.

It is stated that W. D. Holliday, assistant general freight agent of the Big Four, with headquarters at St. Louis, and one of the Big Four's most valuable men, has been offered an important position on the Wabash by Joseph Ramsey, the new general manager.

Miss Anna Bartley died last night at St. Joe hospital from the effects of a stroke of paralysis, which occurred Friday. She was seventy nine years old and had been a resident of Fort Wayne for about fifty-five years. The funeral will be held at the Cathedral at 8:30 tomorrow morning.

Herman J. Miller, an employe of the Fruit House, met with a painful accident that might have been the cause of fatal injury. He was taking a large box to the second floor on the elevator. He tipped the box over so he could place it on a truck and in doing so the box became overbalanced and fell against his chest, fastening him against the wall. The box was full of goods and weighed about 400 pounds, and it is a wonder that it did not fatally crush him. He was relieved from his perilous position by some fellow workmen.

Last evening there was a meeting in Library hall of the Ford Zouaves, the new military company which was recently organized by a number of the young men of the various Catholic churches of the city. Rev. Father Guendling was present at the meeting and made an address to the boys in which he wished them prosperity. Five new members were initiated and there are three awaiting initiation. At present the company consists of thirty-eight members. The company is preparing to give an entertainment shortly after the holidays.

THE FARMERS OF ALLEN

Will Hold Their County Institute Here Next Week.

Questions of Interest to be Discussed by Prominent Speakers—Program of the Session.

The farmers' institute of this county will be held in this city on Monday and Tuesday of next week and their sessions will be of an interesting character as a good program has been arranged for the meeting. The sessions will be at the city hall and will be presided over by W. A. Fairfield, who is the president of the institute, with J. J. Rundles, of Huntertown, as secretary, and J. D. Gloyd, of this city, as treasurer. The institute will be called to order at 9:30 o'clock on Monday morning by President Fairfield, who, after making a few remarks will introduce Mayor C. B. Oakley, who delivers the address of welcome. Senator T. E. Ellison, of this city, will respond and then the first address will be delivered by Mr. Brigham, his subject being, "The Cure for Hard Times." A general discussion will follow and occupy the time until the noon hour. The program for the remainder of the session is as follows:

AFTERNOON SESSION.

"Specialists and Specialties"..... Mrs. W. W. Stevens, Salem
Discussed by the institute.
"Cultivation of the Apple for Profit"..... L. C. Palmer
"Farming as Compared with Other Avocations"..... J. S. Ainslie

EVENING SESSION.

Music.
"Early Recollections of Farm Life"..... Mrs. W. W. Stevens
"Strikes"..... Mr. Brigham

TUESDAY MORNING SESSION.

Music.
"How to Restore and Maintain the Fertility of the Soil"..... Mr. Brigham
Discussion led by J. W. Hirsh.
"Can We Raise Hogs and Corn and Retain the Fertility of the Soil"..... Geo. B. Lawrence and J. D. Gloyd
"Substitutes for Hay"..... A. H. Bates, Dunlee
Discussion led by Wesley Johnson.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Music.
"The Whole Subject of Fertilizers"..... Mrs. W. W. Stevens, Salem, Washington county.
Discussion led by Samuel Mills, Harlan.
"The Hen for Profit"..... A. R. Brown, Montpelier
Discussed and led by Elijah Hook, Hoagland.
"Strawberry Culture"..... Jacob Graham
General discussion by the institute.

The institute this year promises to be one of the best yet held and there will be a large number of farmers from different parts of the county in attendance. The state speakers, Mrs Stevens and Mr. Brigham, have been addressing institutes in all parts of the state and their discussions of their themes will prove interesting and profitable.

SURRENDERED.

Moore's Bondsmen Give Him Over to the Court.

MANCHESTER, N. Y., Dec. 9.—Dr. J. C. Moore, president of the defunct Commonwealth National bank, and one of the People's Insurance company, now in the hands of the receiver, and also connected with several other financial institutions in this city, was surrendered by his bondsmen this morning and he is now in the custody of an officer at his room in the Opera House block.

The Salvation Army Band at the Princess Rink.

Gospel Hymns Sung and Played to Popular Secular Airs—A Fine Concert.

The Salvation Army band held meetings at the Princess rink yesterday afternoon and evening. The services are of a most interesting character, the singing, and the playing of their big brass band, being the features of the meetings which attract attention. The soloists with this band are as good as those with many traveling concert companies. They will hold services every night this week at the Princess Rink.

The members of the band are wide-awake Christian workers and they believe in worshiping God with joyful noise and they use musical instruments of all kinds to do it with At their services yesterday the excellent brass band opened with a selection, followed with a solo, sung to a guitar accompaniment, by Officer Jones, and gospel songs by different members. Several of the army then gave their religious experience, as did also persons in the audience, and after each talk the band would start up with soul enlivening music. Captain Kemp delivered a short address and the meetings were enjoyed by all present.

Captain Kemp tells THE SENTINEL that he has decided to throw the doors of the rink open to everybody and there will be no admission charged. He desires to reach the masses with free salvation and everybody will be welcomed at the rink this week without the payment of any admission whatever.

People who desire to hear an excellent musical concert should hear the Salvation band.

Meetings will be held in the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Berry street M E. church, and at 7:30 o'clock in the evening at the Princess rink.

Edmunds & Law have a fan-blower that will cause King Frost to keep on the outside of the windows, where he belongs. A stream of cold air is blown against the inside surface of the glass in such a way that it does not disturb the articles in the window. The air is drawn through a cloth inlet box so that nothing but clean, dustless air gets into the enclosure. It has long been known that if the inside of the glass is kept cool and dry there will be no danger of frosting or sweat. But without the fan this would be a very difficult thing to accomplish. The show window is counted the most valuable advertisement the store can have and the displays and arrangement therein are fast becoming a fine art. It has become a habit to have the general public take notice and feel interested in every panorama. Think how cheerless the main streets of any large town with the curtains down on the bright and picturesque display during the holiday seasons, and yet, in effect, this is what has happened every year for many weeks during the winter. SEVERE ENCOUNTER.

Italian Troops Surrounded King Menelik's Army.

ROME, Dec. 9.—The army of King Menelik, of Abysynnia, consisting of 20,000 men, was surrounded yesterday and surprised by five companies of Italian troops, under Major Toselli, at Ambalagi. Gen. Arimindi, with another body of Italian troops, advanced to the support of Major Toselli, but was stopped by the enemy, and a severe battle was subsequently fought. The official despatches say that the losses of the Abysinnians were heavy, but no news is furnished concerning Major Toselli's command and nothing is said about the Italian losses.

DON CAMERON.

He Emphatically Refuses Re-election to the Senate.

Says a Quarter of a Century in Public Life is Enough for Him.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9—Senator Don Cameron today announced formally that he would not be a candidate under any circumstances for re-election. He made the announcement by making public the following letter, addressed to Hon. Samuel J. McCarrel, of Harrisburg, Pa.:

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 9, 1895.

MY DEAR SENATOR:—I am in receipt of your letter of the seventh. You will remember that in a conversation at my home in Harrisburg just after my election to the senate, I told you, as well as my other friends, that under no circumstances would I again be a candidate for re-election. Since then nothing has occurred to change my mind. Many friends from every section of the state are writing me making inquiry as to my wishes and interests and cordially offering their support. It is due to them that a public announcement should be made in reply to their inquiries and I take this opportunity through the senator from my native county to thank you and my friends in every county in the state for their more than generous support for more than a third of a century, and to say that I have not been, am not now and will not be a candidate for re-election to the senate of the United States. Not being in office, better opportunity would be afforded me to serve those who have served me, and that I will do so there can be no doubt.

Yours truly,
(Signed.) J. D. CAMERON.

To Hon. Samuel M. McCarrell, Harrisburg, Pa.

WIPED OUT BY FIRE.

A Connecticut Town in Ashes This Morning.

Flames Defy the Rocket Brigade and Sweep Everything Before Them.

ROCKFIELD, Conn., Dec 9—The fire that started in this town last night baffled every attempt to extinguish it, and it raged until it burned itself out. The loss is believed to be $100,000, on which there is an insurance of $16,000. The fire wiped out the business portion of the town. It started in the wooden block on Main street, owned by G. S. Bugg, in the store occupied by Bedick & Need, from an explosion by a kerosene lamp. Ridgefield has no fire department and very little water supply. Bucket gangs of volunteers rallied to the fire, but the intense heat soon drove them back and their efforts made no impression upon the flames. The town hall, Masonic building, Western Union Telegraph company's office, the Southern New England Telephone company's office, the Ridgefield Press, house and grocery store of E. W. Hibbard and the house and drug store of H. K. Scott were burned. The engine that was summoned from Danville rendered no assistance because of the defective water supply.

BOGUS $20 BILLS ARE OUT.

New York Man Caught at Toledo With Dangerous Counterfeits.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Dec. 9.—An arrest was made here last night which may give the government valuable information as to where a dangerous counterfeit $20 bill is coming from. A man giving the name of Lewis O. Smith, of New York, was captured after passing a bill on a fruit dealer. He had $340 in spurious bills and something over $200 in good money. Other complaints have appeared at the police station showing that Smith had at least three other victims. The notes were identified by United States authorities here as very dangerous counterfeits. The engraving is very fine and clear, but the ink and paper are inferior. The bills are representations of legal tender notes, with Hamilton's head. The check letter is A7456023 and the plate is D. A man of the name of J. C. Cooper was also arrested on suspicion of complicity with Smith.

YOUNGEST MASTER OF A LODGE.

Terre Haute Production Enjoys That Distinction.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Dec. 9—Will K. Hamilton, acting city clerk, is thought to be entitled to the distinction of being the youngest master of a masonic lodge in the state. He was elected worshipful master of Euclid lodge, No. 575, last week. Mr. Hamilton was born in Chicago on June 19, 1876, but has been a resident of this city for twenty-three years. He was a page in the circuit court, and afterwards deputy county clerk. He was on the stage for one year, and is in great demand for amateur and benefit performances in this city, of which his friends say he will be elected clerk next year. He became a mason in 1892. He is also a member of the Elks and Knights of Pythias. Two uncles, brothers of his mother, B. Nott Smith and Skilton S. Smith, are residents of Chicago.

ALWAYS NIGHT IN THEIR HOME.

Sightless Family at Kokomo Employs a Blind Hired Girl.

KOKOMO, Ind., Dec. 9—This city is the home of a peculiarly afflicted family. The husband and wife are both blind, the latter being also a helpless cripple, the accident that produced blindness, likewise depriving her of the use of her arms. Their hired girl also is blind, thus the entire household is sightless. The husband sells candy on the streets. Their home is as neat and clean as the tidiest housekeeper with good eyes could keep it.

WHICH CITY WILL WIN

In the Contest for the Republican Presidential Convention?

The National Committee Listening to the Speeches Made for the Different Claimants.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The republican national committee assembled at 2 o'clock today to begin the hearing of cities desirous of entertaining the next republican national convention. The original purpose was to meet at 11 a. m. tomorrow, but the influx of enthusiastic advocates of cities seeking the convention made it desirable to hear the preliminary speeches, advancing the claims of the cities, today. As one of the officers of the committee stated, today would be given to "working off the steam," after which the committee would get down to business, behind closed doors.

Most of the national committeemen have arrived and the corridor of the Arlington hotel is the storm center of a surging crowd of conversation "boomers" and others. The parlors of the hotels are being used as headquarters for the various cities.

Pittsburg has a point of vantage in the first parlor of the main corridor. Her headquarters are crowded constantly with prominent Pittsburghers who distribute literature showing the advantages of the city for a large gathering. The claims of Pittsburg will be presented by Representative Dalzell, Wm. A. Stone and C. L. Magee.

In an adjoining parlor St. Louis has headquarters, with her leading men similarly busy in advancing the interests of the city.

The San Francisco headquarters are on the third floor, but the delegation is doing its work in the lobbies, among the committeemen, rather than in the headquarters.

The Chicago delegation is also active down stairs without headquarters. Mayor Swift and Messrs. Pierce, Taylor, Allerton and Lotter held a conference at noon to outline the plans of canvass. Mayor Swift and Mr. Allerton probably will present Chicago's name to the committee.

The headquarters of the Ohio delegation, which is looking after the interests of Governor McKinley, is constantly crowded. The delegation has made a permanent organization, with Representative Grosvenor as chairman, and Representative Northway as vice chairman. It is said that as Mr. Reed and Mr. Allison are in Washington, it is proper that Governor McKinley should be likewise represented through his friends.

New York state was not represented by a delegation up to noon, although T. C. Platt and Representative Quigg were on the ground. It was stated that a special train bearing a New York delegation was on its way.

"Lots, as usual," said Mr. Quigg.

"It's the first I knew New York wanted the convention," said Mr. Platt. "I was in New York up to last evening, and I heard no mention of the metropolis rocking the convention."

It is the board of transportation that has taken the initiative," said Mr. Quigg.

"It ought to be the common board," said Mr Platt.

It is hardly believed, in view of this feeling, that New York will make a serious effort for the convention. The St. Louis delegation held a meeting during the forenoon and authorized Mr. Samuel Kennard, the head of the Business Men's association of St. Louis, to announce authoritatively that colored delegates to the national convention would receive exactly the same accommodations, facilities and treatment at the hotels and public places as white delegates, and also to make a guarantee that the hotels would not advance rates during the convention.

The Illinois delegation in the house and senate, and Chicago men who are in Washington to urge the claims of that city, had a conference at the capitol today to discuss their campaign. There was no formal action taken, but the members agreed to do all in their power to advance the interests of Chicago. Some of the contesting cities evidently did not favor the movement to hear their claims today instead of tomorrow, and public evidence of their protests was made when Con Sweeda, sergeant-at-arms of the national committee, said at noon that it was possible the program might be changed again and the hearing of cities delayed until tomorrow, as the New York delegation had been delayed, and there was a feeling that a hearing today would be premature.

The large banquet hall where the hearings are to take place, had been elaborately decorated for the occasion, the American flag being predominant every where in the arrangements.

At 8 o'clock only a few committeemen had reached the hall and it was some time afterwards that the meeting opened behind closed doors. At 2:30 o'clock only twenty members of the committee were present and it was 3 p. m. before the committee was called to order and Chairman Carter announced that the hearing of claims of cities would be postponed till tomorrow.

The Pennsylvania railroad last month broke all former records in movement of freights. At Harrisburg 136,343 cars were handled, exceeding all former months' records 2,274 cars.

TWENTY-SIX LOST.

The British Steamer Principia Goes Down at Sea.

Of Her Crew of Twenty-seven Only One Lives to Tell the Tale of the Wreck.

LEITH, Scotland, Dec. 9—The British steamer Principia took fire in the forehold when about forty miles north of Cape Wrath, on the northwestern extremity of Scotland. She ran for one of the Faroe islands, struck a rock and went down with twenty seven of her crew, only one, Henry Anders, of Reatack, being saved. He was taken from the water after clinging to wreckage for eighteen hours. A passenger named Jackson was also drowned. The Principia was a barkentine rigged screw steamer, built at New Castle, England, in 1891. She was owned by The Arrow Shipping company, and registered 1,799 net and 2,319 gross tons. Simpson, Spence & Co. are the New York agents of the line.

L'Anse, Mich., Dec. 9—The tug P. B. Campbell, with her crew, was lost about twenty miles off Huron Island on Saturday morning. No particulars have been received. The Campbell is of twenty-two tons burden and was owned by B. B. Inman, of Duluth. She had lately been employed in the effort to release the stranded schooners, Moonlight and Kent, at Marquette, and was probably on her way home to Duluth from that port when she was lost.

MARY THURMAN FINDS GOLD.

Daughter of the "Old Roman" of Ohio Makes a Rich Strike.

LOS ANGELES, Cala., Dec. 9—News comes from the Colorado desert mining camp of Picacho, near Yuma, that Mary Thurman, daughter of Judge Thurman, has made the richest strike known in any of the desert camps for years. She was prospecting in the hills and found a vein that promises to make her a bonanza queen. Mary Thurman was once the belle of Washington and there she married Lieutenant Cowles, now United States naval attache in London, who recently wedded Miss Roosevelt, sister of the secretary of the United States embassy. Cowles and she soon disagreed, and he permitted her to get a divorce. Then she came west to San Diego and lived at Tia Juana, on the Mexican line. There she met and married Thomas Gifford, a dashing adventurer, who proved to have a wife and two children. Then she went home to see her mother before the old woman died, but Judge Thurman refused to permit her to enter his door, and she returned. She got a divorce from Gifford, and then surprised her friends by marrying "Bog" Holliday, the base ball player. She is known in all the mining camps of southern California.

GLASS COMBINE TAKES ALARM.

Independent Plants Forced to Resume Six Orders for a Short Hours.

ANDERSON, Ind., Dec. 9—The announcement that the great De Pauw Window Glass company would put its plant into operation again the first of the year has put the window glass trust on edge, and the shut down of all window glass plants in the country, which was to have taken place January 1, is continued for an indefinite period, has been declared off. The plant is the largest in the United States and has a capacity of ninety pots. The new company refuses to go into the combine. The announcement that the American Flint Glass company's plants at Alexandria and New Albany would be put in operation January 1 has caused the officers of the trust to take alarm. The Alexandria plant is the largest in the world and the two are large enough to force down the prices of the trust, which, without avail, has tried to get them into the combination. The first glass trust will close all its plants January 1 for a short time to strengthen prices.

DOGS FOR A PERILOUS TRIP.

To be Used as Pack Animals in a Region Where Letters Cost $2 Cents Each.

FORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Dec. 9.—James Jackson, an educated Indian, who is to personally carry the mails from Juneau to Fort Cudahy, on the Yukon river, has arrived on the steamer Wallapa. He came down to secure twenty or thirty strong dogs to pull the sleds across the mountains to the Canadian postoffice on Forty Mile creek. This service is merely a private enterprise, being maintained by miners, who pay fifty cents for each letter. The Canadian government guarantees $250 for each of two round trips. This is reckoned as being a most hazardous journey and several miners have lost their lives in trying to make it.

LEAVES THE EPISCOPAL FAITH.

Rumor That Dr. Merritt Has Embraced Roman Catholicism.

MOUNDSVILLE, W. J., Dec. 9—It has been reported that Rev. Dr. B. N. Merritt had announced the religion of the Episcopal church and embraced the Roman Catholic faith. He has been ill for the past month from Bright's disease and his death is expected momentarily. His immediate friends will neither deny nor affirm the report, and one of them replied tersely to a query that "It was nobody's business if he did." Dr. Merritt is seventy years old and has been rector of St. Peter's church for twenty years.

Miners Pay Strike.

MASSILLON, Ohio, Dec 9—The coal operators of the state having absolutely refused to concede anything to the miners employed in the company store mines, there remains every prospect of a state strike. The coal operators are hopeful that when it is ordered they will be exempted from its operations and they think that a policy of this sort would bring the company store operators around more quickly than any other.

JUMPED THE TRACK.

Locomotive Wrecked in the Suburbs of New York City.

Engineer and Two Brakemen Crushed to Death and the Conductor and Fireman Cut and Scalded.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Three men were killed and two more injured in a railroad wreck yesterday on the New York and New Haven railway in Harlem. The killed are:

Thomas Fitzgerald, engineer, thirty-eight years old.

Frederick Maples, brakeman, forty years old.

Thomas C. M'Nally, brakeman, forty years old.

The injured are: Thomas Bannon, conductor, cut and scalded; Thomas McKeon, fireman, cut and scalded. All of the killed and injured are residents of this city.

The accident occurred between 132d and 133d streets. The engine, No. 16, of the company's equipment, was used as a switching engine, and was bound east to Van Nest station, with six cars of live men. The location of the accident was a short curve, and no explanation of what was responsible for the trouble could be ascertained. Everything was in its proper shape apparently, and the engine and its tender were proceeding along at its usual speed when, without any warning, the engine left the track and went bumping along over the ties. Bannon, the conductor, and McKeon, the fireman, leaped for their lives at the moment the engine toppled over across the westbound track before the others of the crew were able to save themselves from being crushed beneath the weight of the boiler.

Police and fire alarms were at once turned in. The firemen went to work with their axes and cut away all the woodwork of the cab, and in that way were able to take out the bodies of Fitzgerald and Maples, both of whom were pinned down by the cab. The body of McNally, however, was under the boiler, and the firemen were not able to release it. A wrecking crew was sent for from the company's yard, and the work of lifting up the engine, which lay on its side, was begun. After many hours of labor the engine was jacked up and the body of McNally was taken out. All of the bodies were crushed and scalded, death evidently having been instantaneous. Fitzgerald's head protruded through the window of the engine cab, and he was sitting on his seat at his duty when the accident happened.

ANOTHER BOND ISSUE.

Financial Affairs Trending in That Direction.

The Condition of the Exchange Market Points to Further Withdrawals of Gold From the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The statement is made by persons who are among those best qualified to judge, that in the absence of legislation to relieve the financial situation another bond issue is altogether probable within the next few months at the farthest. The present condition of the exchange market, and the commercial situation generally, it is said, point unmistakably to further large withdrawals of gold, and without something is done to prevent the usual heavy exports during January and February, which, for the last two years, have forced the issue of bonds to recoup the depleted gold reserve, a similar situation will confront the treasury before the new year is far advanced. The available cash balance in the treasury today, including the reserve, is approximately $175,500,000, and as the government has realized from its three bond issues about $182,000,000, it appears that but for these issues the government would now be without one dollar in the treasury and in addition would have outstanding obligations amounting to about $9,500,000. In the meantime the excess of expenditures over receipts amount to about $130,000,000. The exports of gold during the last four months have been as follows:

August, $10,307,000; September, $17,424,000; October, $2,165,000; November, $16,000,000; so far during December, $3,540,000; making a total of $55,936,000.

So far this calendar year, the exports of gold amount to about $95,000,000. In 1894 the exports amounted to $81,819,924. From the best information obtainable it is believed that the present month will show a surplus of at least $1,000,000, which will leave the deficit for the fiscal year to January 1, about $15,000,000. It is expected that this amount will not be materially increased during the remaining months of the fiscal year.

The Perrine Comet is Again Observed.

It Has Grown Much Brighter and is Now Visible to the Naked Eye.

MOUNT HAMILTON, Cala., Dec. 9—The Perrine comet was again observed here this morning, at the Lick observatory, after an interval of several days of cloudy weather. The comet has grown much brighter and is now visible to the naked eye. It is a fine object, about the fourth magnitude, and now rises about five hours and fifteen minutes in the morning, a little south of east. As it is rapidly nearing the sun it will continue to rise later each morning. December 16 it will cross the sun about 7° to the south and will then become an evening object, but will rather be visible in the northern hemisphere. The nearest approach to the sun will occur on December 18th, at a distance of about 18,000,000. On December 17th the comet will attain its maximum brightness as seen from the earth, being at that time over eighty times as bright as at its discovery. About December 17 it will be farthest from the sun at a distance of about 13°, when it will again approach the sun, passing 8° to the north on January 11, when it again will become a morning object. It is now situated in the eastern part of the constellation Libra in the right ascension fifteen hours, twenty-one minutes and south declination. A photograph was taken this morning by A. L. Colton, and it shows the tail to be composed of one long streamer and several short ones. The principal streamer is much curved and bent and shows a condensation similar to the phenomena which have been photographed in several of the brighter comets of recent years.

JOURNALIST DEAD.

George A. Sala, the Author and Poet, Dies at London.

LONDON, Dec. 9.—George Augustus Sala, journalist, author and poet, died yesterday. The illness which has terminated in his death was of long duration. For a number of months past his remarkable powers have been waning, due to a general breaking up of his physical system. He had already attained the age of sixty-seven after a life of tremendous activity in the literary world. He was the foremost journalist whom London has given to the world, a character as unique in all that he did that his personality had as much to do with his success as his abilities. He was born in London in 1828. In the early part of his career he became a contributor of articles to newspapers and magazines. He founded and was the first editor of the Temple Bar Magazine. He visited the United States in 1863 as special correspondent for the Daily Telegraph, and in the latter part of the following year published the result of his observations under the title of "America in the Midst of War."

PROBABLY NOT CORRECT.

The Report That Ex-President Harrison Will Marry.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 9—The report of the possible marriage of ex-President Harrison and Mrs. Dimmock, the niece of the late Mrs. Harrison, is not received with credit by friends of the family. A correspondent made bold enough to question the general concerning the rumor, but his only response was, "Please don't ask me such a question," and he was not pressed. Every few months some one makes bold to say that ex-President Harrison contemplates re-marriage, and quite recently his name was coupled with that of a rich widow of Vincennes. This story had no foundation in fact, and is simply a sample of the idle gossip set afloat. Those who know anything of General Harrison's devotion to his dead wife do not believe that he will ever remarry.

WENT ON WITH HIS SERMON.

Man Falls Dead in a Church, But the Preacher Continued.

BUTTE, Mont., Dec. 9—George Brotherton, a wealthy rancher living near Meeker, aged seventy-nine, who has been visiting his sons, prominent merchants in Butte, dropped dead in the Mountain View Methodist church yesterday morning, during services. The body was removed from the church and Rev. Mr. Hollies, without interruption, continued his sermon.

PEORIA BARBERS DIVIDED.

White Men Defy the Cody Law and Keep Open on Sunday.

PEORIA, Ill., Dec. 9—The white barbers kept their shops open yesterday, but all the negroes remained closed. They claim that they have not been shown proper consideration, and threaten to commence legal prosecution this morning.

Peculiar Verdict.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 9.—The coroner rendered his verdict in the central viaduct disaster today. He failed to find sufficient evidence of an act committed or omitted on the part of any person to warrant him in holding anyone criminally liable for the accident. He concluded that the seventeen victims of the disaster came to their deaths as a result of injuries sustained or from drowning in the river.

Severe Storms.

BERNE SWITZERLAND, Dec. 9.—The severe storms which have prevailed over Switzerland during this last few days and throughout Europe in general, have caused great damage, especially in the villages in the mountain districts of Switzerland. An earthquake shock was felt at Hasli, also known as Ober-Hasli, in this section.

BAD INDIANS CAUGHT.

Murderous Apaches Captured by the Seventh Cavalry.

Others Still at Large and Pursued by Troops—Nine People Killed in Arizona Last Week.

FORT GRANT, A. T., Dec 9—The party of White mountain Apache Indians missing from the camp on the San Carlos reservation and which is supposed to have murdered Merrill and his daughter near Solomonville three days ago, was arrested and brought into San Carlos agency late last night by a detachment of Captain Bell's troop of the Seventh Cavalry and the Indian police. The party consisted of seven men and a boy, all mounted and heavily armed, two of them carrying cavalry carbines that fit the identical bullet which brought Merrill and his daughter to their untimely end. The Indians claim to have been hunting in the mountains near Fort Thomas, and the fifty miles from these mountains to the Gila Bonita valley, in which Merrill and his daughter were killed, is only a stop for these wild Apaches. They are being held under guard at San Carlos for further investigation, but there is very little doubt that Colonel Bell has the true murderers. A prominent cattle man at Fort Thomas reports having seen a party of six or seven Indians near the trail leading to the valley in which the killing took place. Evidently these are the same Indians.

CONGRESSIONAL NEWS.

Senate Confirms the Nominations of Rufus Peckham,

Judges Springer, Hilscher and Stewart—The House Settles Down to Business.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The senate judiciary committee has reported on the nomination of Rufus W. Peckham, of New York, to be associate justice of the supreme court, favorably, which insures his confirmation. The judiciary committee also agreed to report favorably the nomination of Judges Springer, Kilgore and Stuart.

The populist senators have changed their former decision concerning the organization of the senate and have now agreed among themselves to interpose no objection to the republicans taking control. They will act together and will withdraw as such and allow the republicans to elect their candidates for the senate offices. They may possibly nominate a candidate for president protem, but they will not press his claim nor continue his candidacy so as to materially delay the organization.

The first business proposition brought forward in the house today was a bill by Mr. Hopkins to amend the statute fixing the customs district of Chicago so that the district would embrace all of the states of Illinois and Indiana. Mr. Hopkins explained that the bill was in the interest of the smelters of Aurora, who desired to be able to pay the duties on Canadian ores at the port of Chicago. At present, he said, Aurora was not interested. The bill was passed by unanimous consent.

The oath of office was then administered to Mr. Price, democrat, of Louisiana, who had not been present at the previous meetings of the house. A resolution was passed for the appointment of three new assistants to the superintendent of the document room, as was also a resolution for the appointment of Isaac Hill, of Ohio, as a deputy sergeant-at-arms, and the three other employes agreed upon by the democratic caucus.

MONSTER PETITION.

For Cuban Independence Introduced by Congressman Boyer.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Representative Boyer, of Indiana, yesterday presented to the house a monster petition containing 92,000 names, praying that the Cuban insurgents be recognized as belligerents. The petition originated at Elkhart and was circulated in nearly every state and territory in the union. It is labeled "A petition in the interest of humanity and the cause of freedom," and requests congress to take such action as shall result in the speedy recognition (as belligerents) of the Cuban patriots."

NYP. AND O. RECEIVER.

Daniel Babst, of Crestline, is Appointed by the Court.

MARION, Ohio, Dec 9—Daniel Babst, jr., of Crestline, was appointed receiver of the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio railroad, by Judge Norris, of the common pleas court, this morning. John Todd had been appointed receiver by the Summit county court, but Judge Norris held that the action was taken without jurisdiction. A bitter legal fight will follow. The appointment of a receiver was caused by reason of the indebtedness of the road, which amounts to $87,000,000.

RECEIVER APPOINTED.

The Barkhardt Coal Plats in Hard Luck.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 9—Louis Kramer was today appointed receiver of the A. E. Barkhardt company, on a suit brought by Albert Eichelbrenner, the brother-in-law of Barkhardt. Liabilities, $350,000; assets, $480,000. The firm is the largest here in the line of cloaks and furs.

A WEAK CASE.

The Common Opinion of the Cunningham Murder Trial.

Most of the Observers Think Cunningham Will Not be Convicted—The Detective's Mix-Up.

There is much speculation as to the outcome of the Cunningham trial at Columbia City. It seems to be the common opinion, however, that the state has made out but a weak case against the young man who is on trial for his life. Most of those who have paid any attention to the case think that the officers have not got enough the man who so brutally murdered the old postmaster at Dunfee on the 17th of September.

The prosecution had spent much time in preparing for the trial of Cunningham, and promised many sensational developments, but thus far, and that the state's evidence is nearly all in, these sensations have not yet been shown up. The principal feature in that direction was the production of the bloody clothing which had been found in the possession of Cunningham. This, however, the defense claims it will be able to account for in such a way as will do away with its weight as evidence.

Another thing that has resulted favorably to the defense is the conflicting testimony given by Detective Rayhouser, of this city. Rayhouser testified at the preliminary hearing that Cunningham confessed to him that he had killed old man Singer. He said that this confession was made to him on the eleventh of October. At the trial on Saturday, Rayhouser took the witness stand and testified that the confession was made to him on October 8th. His explanation of this conflict of dates was that he named the eleventh day of October at the preliminary trial in order to fool the attorneys for the defense and get them mixed up. This made a bad hole in the evidence for the prosecution.

It seems to be the universal opinion of the Fort Wayne people who have attended the trial and who have been witnesses that Cunningham will not be convicted. And yet there is no telling what a jury will do.

There was no other important testimony Saturday except that Abe Beck, to whom it is alleged also that Cunningham made a confession, testified that he had known the defendant for a number of years and that he knew him to be a big blow-hard and a common liar. Beck said that Cunningham frequently told of doing things that his hearers knew he did not do and could not do.

A SMOOTH BURGLAR.

Residence of Rev. A. W. Sonbrese Robbed

While the Family Was at Church Monday Night—A Burglar Stole Money and Jewelry.

Burglars visited the residence of Rev. A. W. Sonbrese, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, on West Berry street, last night and made a rich haul.

The family was attending services at the church, which is in the same block with the parsonage. Some time between 7:30 and 8:30 o'clock the burglar pried open a side window and thus gained entrance to the house. He went up stairs to the sleeping rooms and ransacked the place. In the drawers of two bureaus he found the plunder he was seeking. He took a sum of money which he found there and also a lot of jewelry. The jewelry was quite valuable and it was of special value to the family because several of the pieces were heirlooms that had been in the family for many years. A number of medals were also stolen. The value of the haul made by the robber was not learned but Rev. Sonbrese said to The Sentinel this morning that it would reach a considerable sum. From all appearances it would seem that the house had been watched by the robber and that when the family all left the house he entered.

The police were notified at once of the burglary and officers were put to work on the clues that could be obtained.

BEFORE THE BOARD.

C. E. Everett Will Again Talk Street Railway Business.

This afternoon C. E. Everett is expected to appear before the board of public works in the interest of his street railway franchise. It is the general understanding about the city hall that some definite action will be taken in the matter within a very short time—perhaps this week.

VERY, VERY QUIET.

Business is Dull in the Police Department.

The Patrol Wagon Horses Given a Run for Exercise—The Stray Boys Go Home.

Business among the policemen is so dull that this afternoon the patrol wagon team was taken out by Driver Fred Gallmeyer and given a run about town just for exercise. It has been several days since the wagon has been called upon to make a run.

STRAY BOYS SENT HOME.

J. F. Comer and N. W. Trimble, jr., the two boys whom the police took care of for several days, started on their way to their homes in Birmingham, Ala., yesterday. The boys went out to see the football game between Yale and Princeton on Thanksgiving and lost all their money by betting on the game. They started home and got as far as this city, where the police took them in. Lieutenant Lapp learned their story and telegraphed their parents, and Saturday evening he received remittances and tickets for them with instructions to send the boys home without delay. They started yesterday. The boys are well educated and come from good families. Comer's father is a wealthy lumber man and Trimble's father is in the employ of the government.

A MAN AND HIS VICTIM.

Officer Hines was called to the Fanny Joy resort in the jail lists last Saturday evening by a telephone message which stated that a stranger was taking a girl to the place against her will. The couple passed the county jail and those who saw them say that the girl was trying to get away from the fellow, but that she was unable to make her escape. Hines went to the house and was told that the couple came there and the man rented a room, but that he did not go up. They then went to Clinton street and came back down town. The inmate of the house with whom Hines talked said that it was plain that the girl was forced to accompany the man. The girl is from a very respectable family, but the man was unknown. The police will try to find him.

Sheriff Clausmier was at home sick at the time and was unable to get out of the house. As soon as Deputy Bird Wiley came in, Mr. Clausmier sent him out to see about the matter and Wiley also notified the police and went with Hines to the house. If Mr. Clausmier had been able to get out of his room he would have investigated the case himself.

ARE YOU THIN?

Do You Want to Become Fleshy?

A FEW SIMPLE RULES

Fresh and Not Fat Is What Is Needed.

What this people want is flesh and not fat. To be of symmetrical and properly proportioned, every person should have a certain amount of flesh. To be plump does not necessarily mean to be fat. Fat is undesirable, it clogs and retards the action of every muscle. Interferes with the healthy action of the heart and lungs, and often causes troublesome or fatal degeneration of vital organs; to say nothing of the discomfort many or less, resulting from excessive corpulency.

Common sense would suggest, that if one wishes to become fleshy and healthy, the thing most needed would be flesh forming foods, in other words albuminous foods, like eggs, beef, oatmeal, etc. The kinds of food that make fruit are the foods that form the greater part of our daily bill of fare.

Now, the only reason so many people remain thin is because their stomachs do not properly and completely digest and assimilate the flesh-forming food they eat, as they ought to do.

There are thousands of such people and they are really dyspeptics, although they may not suffer any particular pain or inconvenience from their stomachs. If such persons would take with their meals some preparation like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the food would be quickly digested and the proper degree of plumpness very soon accomplished. Stuart's Tablets act promptly and directly for that purpose. They will digest every variety of flesh-forming food, which is the sole reason why they so quickly build up and strengthen thin, dyspeptic men and women.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure dyspepsia and every form of indigestion on this common sense plan. What they digest they promptly, pledge strength to every nerve and tissue in the body, while at the same time the stomach has a chance to recover its natural vigor. Nothing further is required to make it entirely trouble or to make thin, dyspeptic people strong, plump and well.

This excellent preparation is manufactured by the Stuart Chemical Co., Marshall, Mich., and sold by druggists every where at 50 cents per package.

EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST-SUPPER.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided for our breakfast and supper a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

DECEMBER 9th! And we haven't had good sleighing yet.

QUESTIONS of the hour—Who for congress? Who for mayor?

The pay days of the month are here and large amounts of money will be put into circulation.

The religious revival spirit continues. Several of our city churches are holding meetings this week.

The methods of the Salvation Army are peculiar, but the ends it seeks to accomplish are all right.

The good effects of the Chapman evangelistic meetings are now being shown in the addition of a large number of new members to our city churches.

It is now asserted that the sultan of Turkey has lost his mind. There is nothing in his past record to show that he will be seriously inconvenienced by this misadventure.

Seventeen men were excused from jury service in Chicago in one day because they could neither read nor write. The papers in that city were not put down to a cent a copy one day too soon.

China is waking up at last. The emperor has ordered the immediate construction of a first class double track railroad from Taikin to Tieo-Tsin. There is often much virtue in a good, sound thrashing.

Speaker Reed's policy of do nothing to disturb the confidence of the next republican national convention is good so far as it goes, but as between a wool tax and a beer tax, where would he prefer to have the disturbance located?

If you want a good Christmas present for a friend send him or her The Daily Sentinel for a year. As it reaches its destination each day it will remind them of the sender. Try The Sentinel as a Christmas gift. We know it will prove an acceptable present.

At the meeting of the city council tomorrow night the ordinance taxing telegraph, telephone and other poles, for the stringing of wires, will come up for consideration. The merits of this ordinance have been frequently discussed in The Sentinel's columns. The sentiment of the people is in favor of its passage.

An analysis of the bologna sausage sold in the open market at San Bernardino showed it to consist of 75 per cent burned potatoes and 25 per cent. rotten meat dipped in a patent substance called "smokine," to give it a smoky flavor. These are worse things in the world after all than minced dog meat stuffed in "casings."

Beer, which has been considered the staff of life throughout the world, is actually used only by one third of the fifteen hundred millions of inhabitants of the globe. In the Pampas regions dried beef is the main staff, in Eastern Asia rice, and along the coasts of Spanish America the banana constitutes the daily meal.

The Sentinel has a great treat in store for all of its readers tomorrow. We have arranged with C. L. Larkin, the chef at the Wayne hotel, to publish all his "tried and true" recipes and will commence the same tomorrow in this department. He is a cook of national fame and we know our readers will highly appreciate anything coming from him.

It may not be generally known that the origin of the "baker's dozen" dates back to the days of Edward, the First's reign in England. At that time rigid laws were enacted concerning the sale of bread, and so severe was the penalty for falling short in the dozen loaves that the bakers preferred to give thirteen loaves rather than to run any risk of punishment.

A Kansas district has a written contract with a teacher to teach the school, chop the wood, make the fire, sweep, and find the matches for $30 a month. The teacher is a woman. If she is a "new woman," the contract is all right as far as the requirements are concerned. The price paid for the services, however, is not in accord with the "new woman's" ideas.

Mayor Strong, of New York, calls attention to the fact that 8,000 saloons are carried on in that city, or nearly three times as many proportionately as are found in Philadelphia, where high license produces a large revenue. Another item mentioned is that since the Sunday closing law has been enforced deposits in the New York savings banks have increased $15,000,000.

It is not generally known that Georgia was the first state in the union to pass an ordinance against slavery. This was way back in the days before the institution had secured a foothold and was the natural sentiment of liberty loving colonists, who were opposed to any form of human tyranny. If Georgia had stuck to that ordinance it would have saved itself a great deal of trouble.

Archbishop Farrar once said: "He who never connects God with his daily life knows nothing of the spiritual meaning and uses of life; nothing of the calm, strong patience with which life may be endured, of the gentle, tender comfort which the Father's love can minister; of the blessed rest to be realized in his forgiving love, his tender Fatherhood; of the deep, peaceful sense of the infinite one ever near, a refuge and a strength."

As a result of the election last Saturday in the Forty-eighth legislative district of Kentucky, of A. J. Carroll, democrat, the legislature of that state is left with a tie, politically, on joint ballot. The balloting for United States senator to succeed Senator Blackburn is likely to result in a deadlock. On joint ballot, the republicans and democrats will have 58 votes each, the populists two, and it is pretty well assured that the populist vote will split.

Half a million workers, of almost every skilled trade, are represented at the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, whose opening session began at New York city today. The most important matter to come before the convention will be the plan for the general introduction of the eight-hour day. At the Denver convention last year it was voted to make an attempt in this direction on May 1, 1896, and it is expected that some definite plan will be mapped out by the New York convention.

George W. Wendling calls attention to the fatalities which have recently fallen upon the lecture field. First came the death of Eugene Field, with a long line of platform engagements ahead of him. Then Professor Hagan, the finest illustrated lecturer next to Stoddard, died while lecturing in Atlanta. Then, ten days ago, Bill Nye broke down physically. Then the celebrated traveler, Colonel Sanford, died on a lecture tour in Colorado. Last week Major Dane, a very popular lecturer, died and was buried at sea on his way home from Australia. And now comes word that Joseph Cook is seriously ill in Calcutta, India. Then there is the pathetic experiences of Senator Hill and Dick Bland, which Mr. Wendling fails to note.

In the Venezuelan controversy England seems to be sparring for time. Lord Salisbury is laying the ropes for a prolonged correspondence regarding the disputed boundary line. Nobody believes that England cowels a fight with America. Its utmost powers are now taxed in preserving the peace of Europe. In the very remote event of a clash of arms with the United States, England would have nothing upon which to base the hope that the United States would be worsted. It has seen too much of the American faculty for rising to great emergencies to believe that. So, while there is no motive on the part of Great Britain for inviting a conflict with the United States, it cannot repress the greed which has always made it covetous for foreign territory, and it will postpone to the last moment a surrender of its alleged rights in Venezuela, though it is not believed that it would defend them in the face of justice and at the hazard of a war with the most powerful nation on the globe.

Miss Minnie Hoagland is the editor and publisher of the Public Opinion, the first number of which has just been issued. It is handsome in typographical appearance, and well edited, and contains a large amount of reading matter of a local and general character, which will make it interesting to the ladies of the various literary clubs of the city. In its prospectus it says: "Locals, personals, railroad time tables, amusements; society, fashion, book and club notes; items of interest pertaining to philanthropy, religion, education and libraries will all find a place in our columns, while our literary department will contain articles of a high order of merit. Though this journal is the official organ of the Women's Club League, it purposes to publish interesting items and selected articles from any literary, art or musical club in Fort Wayne or elsewhere." Miss Hoagland is one of the most accomplished writers in this city, and, as she is a recognized authority on all literary club matters, the Public Occurrent will prove popular with its readers.

School children and Music.

That Americans can make music is proved by the fact that this country has produced among leading professional singers. Nevertheless our system of teaching children to sing in the public schools has for some reason been little else than a failure. It has not taught young people to read music at sight generally. It has not mellowed their voices from the loud, screeching shrill excite complaining of by foreigners. Foreigners who listen to our public school singing.

The musical teaching in our public schools lasts long enough and costs enough to make the children good singers, yet it has thus far failed to make any permanent impression.

The reason probably is that the children's love for music is not developed. The popular musical taste of the country has not advanced beyond the Moody and Sankey hymns and the trashy variety.

So far as real music goes the common variety song confines about as much of it as the queer, discordant notes that pass for music among the Chinese, yet it is whistled on the streets, played by the nickel in the slot machines, and very often sung to piano music in refined homes. A large proportion of our people believe these nutty airs to be music.

The public schools are the agency by which the Americans can be made a musical people. That the teaching of singing in them thus far has been generally a failure proves only that the right methods have not been found yet. It certainly seems to have been discovered and utilized in the schools of Dedham and Brookline, Mass. It has advanced so far there that the pupils are able to read difficult music at sight. They have also, with the assistance of professional soloists, been able to perform such great compositions as "The Messiah." Orchestras of both wind and stringed instruments are maintained successfully by the pupils. What these Massachusetts towns have done any other town, city or village in America can do. Now is the time to begin.

The customs receipts of 325 large ports to date has been recorded at the United States hydrographic office. It is just off Cape Charles and Henry, at the entrance to the Chesapeake, where a British steamer passed a chunk of ice 400 feet long and 30 feet high. It is a cold day for Great Britain most everywhere just now.

It looks as if the noisy, stumbling and hesitation of incantation in accepting the ultimatum of the powers were intended to prolong the issue till the Turks had killed all the Armenians off the face of the earth. Then there could be no longer any Armenian question.

Some of our distinguished Americans are very much admired away from home. The farther away from home the more they seem to be admired.

A Woman's Reasons — A Proposal — Wanted a Surety — Water-Tight Compartments — A Dentist's Son-in-Law — He Used Everybody.

HEY tell me, Alice, that you're the girl
That broke all the hearts in Texas;
That made such a singular social swirl
And yet found none to marry.

The Knight, the Baron, Sir Lord, the Duke,
Were none of them to your liking?
You gave them all rebuff, rebuke,
While dancing, driving, biking.

Well, naught care I for your triumphs golore,
Your dower, or power, or golf.
I'm simply a clerk in a dry goods store
And I offer you, Miss, myself.
—Tom Hall in Truth.

Wanted to Pay in Installments.

A man went into a dentist's shop to have a tooth extracted, but on he thought the dentist's charges were rather high, he asked if he couldn't pay on the installment plan. "Certainly," replied the dentist; "but when a patient pays in installments we pull the tooth on the installment plan, also."

"How's that?"

"My charge for pulling a tooth is $5."

"So you said."

"Very well. How much a week do you propose to pay?"

"About 25 cents."

"All right. Get into this chair and I will pull on the tooth 25 cents' worth, and you can pay the first installment. Come in again next week and I will jerk the second installment out of you, and the next."

But the patient had vanished.—Ex.

A Devoted Servitor.

Count de Vermicelli, an Italian nobleman now in New York, is engaged to be married to Miss Maud Snobberly of Fifth avenue.

One of the guests at a recent social gathering at the Snobberly mansion asked Mrs. Snobberly (she used to be a servant girl), how she liked her prospective son-in-law.

She replied: "Ma and Mr. Snobberly are both tickled to death with Count de Vermicelli, and the way he is stuck on Maud is a sin. You can have no idea of how the Count doles on that gal. Everything in the world that he imagines she wants he makes us buy for her."

Water-Tight Compartment.

When Mr. Boodle landed in New York from a Liverpool steamer the other day, he gave every appearance of having had a long and severe tussle with the flowing bowl. A friend was on the dock to meet him, and when he perceived his condition he said:

"Are there water-tight compartments in your ship, Boodle?"

"Betcher life. Chuck full of 'em."

"I thought so. And you had one, didn't you?"

"Thee. Why?"

"You don't look as though a drop of water got into you during the entire voyage."

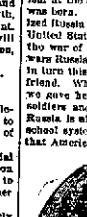
THE LITTLE DUCHESS.

WHO MAY YET RULE OVER ALL THE RUSSIAS.

Named Olga by Her Mother—Beautiful Character of the Czarina—America Feels a Friendly Interest in the Progress of Russia.



THE mother of the little grand duchess of Russia has given her the name of Olga. If the Romanoff dynasty continues to reign Olga will one day become empress of all the Russias. That country is now the largest empire in the world ruled by one government. Americans will take great interest in the progress of the nation that emerged from a state of semi-barbarism at the same time that this nation was born. The first act done by civilized Russia was to materially assist the United States in subduing England in the war of the revolution. In all our wars Russia has been our friend. And in turn this country has been Russia's friend. When her treasury was empty we gave her gold, we have given her soldiers and railroad builders. Now Russia is about to adopt our common school system. So it is quite natural that Americans feel a friendly interest in the progressive strides being made by Russia.

THE CZARINA OF RUSSIA.

The czarina is one of Queen Victoria's many grandchildren. She is the youngest child of the late Grand Duke and Duchess of Hesse-Darmstadt. Her mother, Princess Alice, perhaps the most popular member of the English royal family, died when the little Alix was only six years of age, and from that time the child was cared for almost exclusively by her grandmother, Queen Victoria, whose special favorite she has always been. She was surrounded by nurses, attendants and governesses, selected at Windsor and Balmoral, with the result that the future czarina grew up more English in sentiment and training than many of her English cousins. Princess Alix was called by the curious modification of her mother's name because Queen Victoria found that the name of Alice was so badly pronounced by the Germans. The little princess received in addition the names of her aunts, Helena, Victoria Louise, and Beatrice. In her childhood she was called "Sunny," from the brightness of her temperament, but after the loss of her mother and father—the grand duke died in 1892—she became more serious. From childhood she was remarkable for a distinct character and individuality of her own, and this was always lost sight of in connection with her entry into the Eastern Orthodox church. For the last seven centuries nearly all the czars have gone abroad for their brides, who, in every instance, have been baptized into the Russian faith. In the case of Princess Alix a difficulty arose. She refused to say that her "former religion was accursed; that her conversion to the Russian faith was due to her conviction that her own religion was not founded upon truth," as the law of the Russian church required.

Never before did the holy synod of Russia had to face such a refusal. Argument was in vain. "I merely join the Greek church that I may be of one faith with my future husband," she said firmly. And the holy synod of Russia had to make this highly important and unprecedented concession to the young German girl, who not even for the crown of an empire would condemn the religion of her forefathers. At her baptism in Russia she received the names Alexandra Feodorovna, and the czar afterward conferred upon her the rank of grand duchess of the empire.

The firmness of character which the czarina possesses has never overshadowed the more graceful qualities of her disposition. She is not stiff, but lively, graceful, and "eloquente," in the Parisian sense of the word; she is sensitive, impulsive, sympathetic, and witty. She is beautiful, of the refined, fair-haired, blue-eyed type of beauty, with finely chiseled features, a clear complexion and large, bright, laughing eyes. Her accomplishments are more than ordinary. She is an admirable linguist, expert at needlework, very musical, a good player on the pianoforte, and an excellent artist. She is a skillful rider, and, after the fashion of young Englishwomen, was devoted to outdoor sports, delighting in tennis, bowling, and skating. In Darmstadt, the Hessian residence, her popularity was unbounded.

Krasnoe Zelo, "the red hamlet," where the czarina now lies, is a village some fifty miles from St. Petersburg, on the borders of Finland. It is full of little log cottages, which recall memories of Trouville and Dieppe. There is a military camp there, and in the village is situated the Imperial School of Pages, where the sons of Russian nobility are educated, and from which they pass as officers into the guard regiments. The imperial palace was built by Catherine II. It stands in the midst of a magnificent park, and in its general appearance is suggestive of Versailles. It is one of the most magnificent palaces in the world, and is full of most costly art treasures.

MISSIONARIES DOING WELL.

John W. Foster Says that China Is Being Christianized.

The Hon. John W. Foster, ex-secretary of state and late confidential adviser to the Emperor of China, said in a recent address: "I may say in a general way that my observations have confirmed me in the belief that foreign missions are exercising a salutary influence among the people of the far East. Much good has been done in the past. Of that I am certain, and I am very sanguine that even much better results are promised for the future. Much has been said about the recent outrages in China being due to religious causes, to the hatred inspired by the efforts of our missionaries to spread the Christian religion among the people of that country. I do not think this is true, however, and I think it is nothing but an outcropping of the always latent prejudice which exists toward foreigners."

ing and happy influences. His parents live in the old palace of Amalienberg, in Copenhagen. His grandfather, King Christian, carries on the affairs of his kingdom in a rather high-handed manner, paying no attention to the action of the chamber; even going so far as to devise laws which that body has rejected. But the people show no resentment and so far as appearances indicate are entirely contented with the conduct of affairs. The crown prince, father of Prince Charles, was born in 1843 and married the Crown Princess Louise of Sweden. The Princess of Wales, mother of Princess Maud, is the eldest daughter of King Christian and aunt of Princess Maud's future husband.

An aboriginal cemetery of unprecedented dimensions has just been discovered at Milford, O. Curator W. K. Moorehead, of the state museum, is busy making excavations. Human skeletons are exhumed by the hundred, and the end is not reached yet. In the graves are a great and diverse variety of weapons, trinkets, utensils, ornaments and religious symbols in stone, bronze and silver. It is not only a find of curiosities, shedding light on the prehistoric past, but an invaluable acquisition to ethnological science.

WHY DO THEY?

Why do people who have bought skates from us send their friends here?

Why do the boys and girls come here for skates?

Is it sentiment or accident?

NO!

It is because nothing is harder on skates than small boys and brick sidewalks, and our skates stand the strain of both. They are hard—the skates we mean. If you see a boy with skates that he has outgrown, (this means long and hard service) ask him where they were bought.

THE SANTA FE SALE.

The Great System Will be Disposed of Tomorrow.

The Sale Will Cover 10,000 Miles of Track, 2,000 Engines and Many Thousand Cars.

At 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, at Topeka, Kas., will occur the greatest auction the world has ever known. At that hour, J. B. Johnson, special master in chancery, will offer to the highest bidder for cash in hand, the entire system of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad. Nothing will be reserved of its 10,000 miles of track, its 2,000 locomotives, its thousands upon thousands of cars, its buildings, rights and franchises, which, considered together, reach the imperial value of $350,000,000. Special Master Johnson will act as auctioneer, and, as a preliminary, to receiving bids, he will read the order of sale, just given at the court, and other legal documents, which will consume somewhat more than an hour. There is one feature of this auction which will materially differ from the ordinary. No one will be allowed to bid unless he has first deposited $500,000 in cash with the special master as an evidence of good faith. Judge Henry C. Caldwell will go to Topeka for the purpose of confirming this sale. Among those who will be present at the sale are: Edward King, president of the Union Trust company, of New York; Wheeler H. Peckham, general counsel of the same company, and W. H. Kessington, and Charles Bloodgood, local counsel; President Ryley, of the reorganized Santa Fe company; D. R. Robinson, first vice president; Paul Morton, third vice president; George R. Peck, general solicitor for the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul; E. D. Kenna, counsel for the receivers; Victor Morawetz, counsel for the reorganized company, and Receivers Walker and McCook.

ABBY KOONS MAKES A FAST RUN.

Another fast run on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago road has been recorded. The train was the first section of No. 7, Conductor L. Miller, hauled by engine No. 232, with Andy Koons at the throttle and W. H. Pothouse as fireman, and the time last Saturday. The 165 miles between Fort Wayne and Chicago were covered in three hours and twenty-five minutes and that, too, under very unfavorable conditions. Five stops were made and twice the train had to side track—when it met No. 8 and No. 2. The run from Warsaw to Plymouth, twenty-four and eight-tenths miles, was made in twenty-four minutes, and from Valparaiso to Colehour, twenty-nine and one-half miles, the train consumed exactly twenty-nine minutes in covering the distance.

AN ACCIDENT AT BELLEVUE.

The gale last Saturday drove a freight car which was standing upon a Nickel Plate siding at Bellevue, Ohio, out upon the main track and the engine hauling west bound passenger train No. 3 dashed into it. The pilot was knocked off and the machinery crippled so badly that the engine could not finish the run to Fort Wayne. A freight engine was pressed into service and brought the train here, arriving an hour late. Nobody injured.

BRICK SETTERS.

Saturday afternoon the Lake Erie and Western company put up $14,000, the amount of judgment and cost in the Craig damage suit, and the nine locomotives and thirty cars loaded with coal, which had been seized by the sheriff at Lima, Ohio, were released. Craig was run over by a yard engine and both legs cut off.

CHICORY THIEVES.

Those who entertain a superstition about No. 13 being unlucky may be interested in knowing that for several years the Lake Shore road had a No. 13 express train, and as long as it run under that number it never met with the slightest mishap. It was so singularly free from all trouble that it became noted on the road. A short time ago, says the Logan's Argus, the number was changed and almost immediately accidents began to happen to it and they have since been of frequent occurrence, although none of them have been very serious.

FEDERAL LABOR UNION.

As a result of the meeting of the representatives of the laboring men of Fort Wayne last Saturday evening, a federal labor union, to be operated under the auspices of the American Federation of Labor, will be organized here. The meeting had been announced and its objects explained by the city papers and when the appointed hour arrived a large crowd of interested persons assembled at Kasten & Kohlmeyer's cigar factory, on Calhoun street, where it was arranged the meeting should be held. After a further explanation of the aims and purposes of the union by the organizer of the Indiana Federation of Trades and Labor councils, who was present, a temporary organization was effected, of which John Koch was made chairman and Edward Miller secretary. Another meeting will be held tomorrow evening at Knights of Labor hall, when a permanent organization will be effected on the plan outlined in these columns last Thursday.

BRIEF MENTION.

W. J. Nekir was the guest of friends in Hartford City over Sunday.

Pittsburg engines 50, 124 and 159 went into the shops for repairs today.

Charles Robertson, hammer boy at the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, is taking a two weeks' lay off.

After a few days' illness John C. Heise, a boilermaker, has returned to his duties at the Base works.

F. Turner, of the Pittsburg copper shop, and J. J. Woodworth, of the boiler shop, are on the sick list today.

After a month's illness, Boilermaker Fred Nahrwald was able to resume work in the Pittsburg shops this morning.

Edward E. Tierney has returned from a wedding tour and this morning resumed his work in the Pittsburg machine shop.

John Bleak has been promoted from a boiler washer to an inspector and assigned to duties at night in the Pittsburg roundhouse.

Local ticket agents have been authorized to continue the sale of tickets on account of the cotton states exposition, until December 26.

A. Schirmeyer, engine wiper in the Pittsburg round house, is working again after an absence of three weeks on account of an injured back.

Blacksmith Henry Dasmeyer, of the Pittsburg shops, is sick. Charles Dean, of the same shop, is detained at home by the sickness of his wife.

The Lake Erie and Western has just completed at its own shops, in Peru, Ind., fifty refrigerator cars for a brewing company in Cincinnati.

The advent of winter has thrown fully one thousand men out of employment on Indiana lines, section and bridge forces being the most affected.

The venerable William Bong has recovered from a two months' illness and this morning reported for duty at the Pittsburg machine shop. John Shuster, another machinist, who was disabled some time by a lame hand, also resumed work this morning.

Pittsburg Engineer Max Horning is sick.

George Stocks, Wabash car inspector, is off duty on account of sickness.

Arthur Collett, clerk in the Wabash offices, spent Sunday in St. Louis.

Ed Hanley is sick and off duty. He is employed at the electric works.

John Likey, of the electric works, has recovered from his recent illness.

Alex Henderson, stationary engineer at the Wabash shops, is slowly recovering from his severe illness.

Mrs. George Fesler, wife of the Wabash conductor, has returned from a visit with friends in Toledo.

E. A. Forter has returned from Pittsburg, where he went some days ago in the interest of the Electric corporation.

Charles Elhoff, formerly a foreman of one of the departments at the electric works, is visiting friends in the city today.

Ed Belden, one of the electric light construction men, came in off the road last night, after an absence of several months.

Foreman Daniel Campbell, of the Wabash blacksmith shop, has returned to the city after a sojorn of a week at Onsla, Ind.

Wabash shopmen who were out of town yesterday were X. F. Needham and G. J. DeVilbiss, at Monpelier; William Littlejohn, at Peru; W. S. Smith, at Andrews, and Fred Parker, fireman, at Toledo.

Fred Starke, jr., of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, had the palm of his right hand split open upon a sharp iron Saturday. He will be unable to work for a few days.

James M. Brown, of Valparaiso, has brought suit against the Nickel Plate for damages by fire alleged to have been caused by the carelessness of an employe of the railway company.

The absentee list in the Pittsburg car shops on Lafayette street contains the names of E. Poiry, J. Davis, F. Zander, C. Bender, G. Gaze, W. E. Shafer and F. Mosier, all of whom are supposed to be sick.

Foreman Joseph Slater, of the Base blacksmith shop, is increasing the force a little. This morning H. Weist and William Friday were given employment and tonight six other new men will commence work.

The Pittsburg blacksmith shop, which was slightly crippled last week by sickness among the employes, is in much better shape today, the following men having returned to work: John Slater, Henry Beckner, Al Throckmorton, Fred Loex, H. C. Meyers, Frank Meyers and John P. Schmidt.

The Pennsylvania railroad has given to the Young Men's Christian Association the building in Camden, N. J., formerly occupied by the Third street Methodist church. The company will give the Y. M. C. A. $1,500 toward fitting up the building and $1,200 a year toward maintenance of expenses.

The approaching wedding of Mr. Charles O. Miller and Miss Georgia Develin has been announced. It will take place on the 17th inst. Mr. Miller is the stationary engineer at the Wabash shops and Miss Develin is the daughter of William Develin, the head watchman at the same establishment.

It was rumored here this morning that ex General Manager C. M. Hays, of the Wabash, was lying ill at his home in St. Louis. A telegraphic message from that city this morning stated that Mr. Hays was suffering with a severe cold, but was able to go down to his office and would doubtless fully recover in a few days.

A rear end collision on the Wabash at Danville Thursday night caused a costly wreck. Section 4, of freight train No. 92, ran into section 3, the engineer and fireman escaping by a jump. Merchandise, whisky, flour, toys and other holiday goods were scattered right and left. The engine was derailed and the track was blocked for about ten hours.

Class N engine 267, the first of its pattern to be built in the Fort Wayne shops, came in this morning to receive repairs to her boiler. This engine was turned out of the shops May 17, 1892, and has been constantly in service since, most of the time in hauling trains over the mountains. A short time ago No. 267 was sent here to haul fast freight trains.

A little invention for the recoaling the speed of locomotives will be put in use on the Union Pacific road, much to the consternation of the engineers, for it registers the time made and the time lost by slow coaling, as well as the time lost by stops. From this record the officials read the story of each trip and call the engineer to account. If the schedule has not been run between stations the indicators register this and the engineer must make a satisfactory explanation.

There is not the least foundation to the rumor, which for the past week has been current here, that G. W. Mudd has resigned as master mechanic of the middle division of the Wabash. Mr. Mudd only recently assumed that office and as he is thoroughly competent and has the confidence and good will of the higher officials there can be no reason for the circulation of such a report other than for malicious purposes. It was evidently the work of some person who had no regard for the truth.

Charles P. Cherry, chief clerk for Storekeeper Enoch Cox, at the Pittsburg shops, has a most interesting collection of relics of early days in this country and is constantly adding to the collection. His display at the Centennial exhibition, in the Trenitman block, was very creditable and was the center of attraction in that part of the building. Last week he received from Costa Rica, South America, some rare specimens of pottery, images, etc., such as was produced there ages ago, which he has added to his Indian relics.

The Wabash is the only Fort Wayne road which is a member of the Western Traffic association and its clergymen's permits are good on thirty-five lines, covering all that territory lying between Chicago and the Pacific coast. Agent R. G. Thompson is expecting a lot of application blanks in a few days, when he will be ready to attend to the clergy of this city and vicinity. Under the new rule clergymen are required to deposit fifty cents with their application for a permit. This is a small sum when viewed singly, but as there are over 30,000 clergymen's permits issued annually, it amounts to considerable in the aggregate and goes a good ways towards defraying the expense attached to issuing permits.

The Suspicious Litigant.

In Judge Gibbons' court the other day an old farmer from DeKalb county was the defendant in a suit for a piece of land, and his lawyer, ex-Judge Jones, had been making a strong fight for it. When the plaintiff's attorney began his argument, he said:

"May it please the court, I take the ground—"

The old farmer jumped up and sang out:

"What's that? What's that?"

The judge called him down.

"May it please the court," began the attorney, not noticing the interruption, "I take the ground—"

"No, I'll be d—d if you do, either," shouted the old farmer; "anyhow not until the jury decides the case!"—Chicago Post.

Still Near His Heart.

"Yes," pursued the wayfarer, repressing a sob, "I shall always carry near my heart a token that recalls the memory of her."

As he bowed his head to weep, he explained, as his emotion would permit, that he referred to some angel food she had made for him, and of which he had partaken.—Detroit Tribune.

The Proper Binding.

Young Wife—I want those letters bound. They are the correspondence which passed between my husband and myself before we were married. Would you recommend a seal binding?

Bookbinder—By no means, madam. They should be bound in whole calf.—Indianapolis Journal.

She Obeyed Orders.

"I thought you had a good girl, Mrs. Bloem?"

"I had."

"What became of her?"

"I told her to get up early and dust."

"Well?"

"She got up and dusted."—Detroit Free Press.

For Men of Society.

What is the use of dressing up to pay a call when that cough makes you a burden to yourself and a nuisance to your friends? Take something for it. There is nothing as good as a twenty-five cent bottle of Ely's Pineola Balsam, which is soothing to the throat and beneficial in all diseases of the throat and lungs. It will relieve the cough at once and in a few days you will almost forget that you have had a cough.

Mothers, Be sure and use "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for your children while cutting teeth. It is the best remedy of all. May5eod4w

Beecham's pills are for biliousness, bilious headache, dyspepsia, heartburn, torpid liver, dizziness, sick headache, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, loss of appetite, sallow skin, etc., when caused by constipation; and constipation is the most frequent cause of all of them.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9—For Indiana—Generally fair; slowly rising temperature; westerly winds.

NEWS NOTES.

Mr. J. J. Gruber is quite ill at his home on Jefferson street.

Tom O'Rourke, of Markle, spent Sunday with relatives and friends in this city.

W. H. Bingham, of Lagrange, is visiting his sister, Mrs. I. M. VanSyke, of East Berry street.

Mr. P. Plautinga left last evening for New York City and will sail Wednesday for a two months' visit in Holland.

Saturday evening, at her home, 109 West Jefferson street, Miss Hattie Markey delightfully entertained a few friends.

Miss Ethel Geerkin set up yesterday for the first time in sixty-one days. She has been very ill, but is now slowly recovering her health

Miss Luella C. Hales has returned from Anderson, Ind., where she has been visiting Rev. Dr. Eldridge and family for the last two weeks.

Rev. Behm, of Trinity Lutheran church, will go to Detroit next Thursday to attend the dedication of a new church. He will deliver the dedicatory sermon.

James H. Keefer, the editor and proprietor of the Goshen Weekly News, was in the city last Saturday. Mr. Keefer is publishing a good local paper and we are glad to know that he is meeting with success.

The Epworth league of the Wayne street M. E. church will hold its monthly business meeting tonight. The league now has a reading circle which meets the first and third Friday nights of each month.

Drs. G. W. Mutzebaw, A. E. Bulson, A. P. Buchman and C. B. Siemon, of this city, are on the program and will read papers at the annual meeting of the Tri State Medical association which opens in Toledo tomorrow.

It is safe to say that fully two thousand skaters visited the reservoir lake yesterday. All day long the lake was covered with the merry crowd. The skating was fine, the ice being in excellent condition. No accidents were reported.

Miss Edith Yarnelle entertained the Thirteen club Saturday afternoon, at her home, on West Wayne street. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Miss Edith Yarnelle; secretary, Miss Mary Sheaff; treasurer, Miss Bessie McCracken.

Riegel & Baugher have taken charge of the Home billiard hall. The transfer of management took place Saturday night. Owing to the long continued serious illness of Henry Manning, the manager, the new firm will conduct the place for Louis Cenliver until next March, when they will purchase the place from him.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Fort Wayne Grays, officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: Captain, H. W. Hagemann; first lieutenant, C. G. Pape; second lieutenant, Charles Holman; orderly sergeant, E. L. Rocster; company clerk, E. H. Moellering. Arrangements are being made for giving a minstrel show in a short time.

Saturday afternoon Miss Virginia Carnahan very pleasantly celebrated her eleventh birthday anniversary by entertaining a number of her little friends at her East Wayne street home. Among the guests were: Louise Foster, Nadjie Dawson, Virginia White, Grace Smith, Agnes Fairbank, Holes and Martha Haskett, Esther Fleming, Louise Bond, Elinor Bond, Katherine Walton, Jeanette Morris and Elizabeth Evans.

At the special revival meetings which are to be held tomorrow evening and Wednesday and Thursday evenings, at the Wayne street church, Rev. Dr. Bennett, the pastor, will deliver a series of sermons in which he will explain the teachings and doctrines of the Methodists. Dr. Bennett has made himself wonderful popular with his congregation by his plain, practical, eloquent Sunday sermons and he has large audiences at every service.

A most important step was taken by organized labor of this city Saturday night, when a meeting was held at the cigar factory of Kasten & Kohlmoyer for the purpose of organizing a Federal Labor union. The meeting was well attended and those present manifested great interest in the move. A large number of the labor unions of the city were represented. A temporary organization was effected, with John Koch as president and Edward Miller as secretary. The next meeting will be held in the K. of L. hall, tomorrow evening, and all interested are invited to be present.

Dr. and Mrs. McGeogan, of Arcola, were in the city today.

There will be a hop at the Standard club to-morrow evening.

Jacob Geeglein and wife left over the Wabash, for Durango, Col.

The St. Joe river is frozen over and the skating is good as far up as the island.

A. R. Hohmann, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is the guest of his father, F. Hohmann, of High street.

Mr. and Mrs Arthur Fiksimmons and daughter, Josie, left last evening for their new home in Chicago.

Miss Katherine Goff, of Shelbyville, will arrive in the city tomorrow and will be the guest of Miss Mabel Robertson, of West Berry street.

Arthur Lloyd, of Detroit, is the guest of Fort Wayne friends. He came to attend the Robertson-Lloyd nuptials, which will take place Thursday.

St. Paul's Lutheran congregation last night extended a call to Rev. L. Dorn, of Belleville, Ill., to come here and serve as assistant to Rev. Sauer. It is believed the call will be accepted.

The Empire theater tonight and for this week will present one of the best bills of the season. Tonight is ladies' free night and the theater will no doubt be packed. The excellent shows have been drawing full houses.

The women's Bible meeting of the Wayne street M. E. church will meet on Tuesday afternoon (and every Tuesday thereafter) from 3 to 4 o'clock, in the Sunday school room. Entrance on Broadway; street cars convenient. Every lady interested in Bible study, not attending a Bible meeting elsewhere, is cordially invited to come. Mrs. Lem R. Hartman, leader.

At the meeting of the board of directors of the Women's Club league, which met Saturday afternoon, it was decided to bring to Fort Wayne a collection of fine pictures. Miss Lillie Beaber, secretary of the Students' Art league, was appointed chairman of the committee which will make all arrangements. The exhibition will be held in the studio on East Lewis street and will probably last a week.

The following committees have been appointed for the second anniversary bill which is to be given by the Wayne True Blues in their armory on the evening of Wednesday, December 11: Reception—Capt. J. D. Fonner, Lieut. W. A. Spice, Lieut. O. C. Meyer; floor—Corporal H. C. Scheer, A. Murto, D. A. Marquardt, R. Heffelfinger, B. McFarren; arrangements—Lieut. O. C. Meyer, A. Murto, F. Amer.

The members are the Misses Grace and Mabel Tinkham, Bertha Jackson, Edna Franklin, Grace Harding, Juanita and Buena Bennett, Grace Waller, Alice Dyer, Marion Hartman, Lucile Porter, Bertha Huestis, Maude Sperry, Daisy and DeEtta Davis and Madge Jenkinson.

Mrs. Herman Siemon very pleasantly entertained at dinner in honor of her birthday anniversary at her home on East Jefferson street. The table was beautifully decorated with carnations and the elaborate dinner served in courses. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. August Siemon, Mrs. A. F. Siemon, Mr. Henry Siemon, Dr. Siemon, Misses Lena, Louise and Henrietta Meyer, Miss Louise Strong and Miss Millie Reid.

Mrs. Alla Barbour entertained the members of the Carnation club Thursday. A delicious turkey dinner was served and each guest received a souvenir of carnations. A most enjoyable time was had by all. The members present were: Mesdames O. Foncannon, J. G. Zimmer, A. J. Hines, W. M. Cutler, N. Foncannon, J. S. Chapman, M. Vodermark, A. Barbour and Miss K. Penco. The club will be entertained January 9th at the home of Mrs. A. J. Hines, of 47 Walnut street.

Township Trustee M. F. Schmedel was greeted by a surprise party that called at his residence, No. 220 West Washington street, Saturday evening to celebrate with him his sixty-seventh birthday. The affair was planned by ex-County Commissioner Jones, Commissioners Stellhorn and Ferguson, Henry Hilbrecht and L. J. Geise. About twenty-five or thirty were present and they enjoyed the event very much. The evening was pleasantly spent and at a late hour refreshments were served.

Arrangements have been made for Dr. W. W. Barnett to deliver three lectures at the city Y. M. C. A. on December 13, 26 and 27 on anatomy. The first lecture will be on the formation of bones; the second on regions and markings of bones; the third on articulation and muscular attachments and relationships. The lectures will be free to all young men. Tickets will be given out at the desk in the Y. M. C. A. a few days in advance. The lecture on December 27 will be illustrated by one of the gymnasium members.

HOW AN ADVERTISEMENT SAVED A WOMAN'S LIFE.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

"For four years I suffered with female troubles. I was so bad that I was compelled to have assistance from the bed to the chair. I tried all the doctors and the medicines that I thought would help me.

"One day, while looking over the paper, I saw the advertisement of your Vegetable Compound. I thought I would try it. I did so, and found relief. I was in bed when I first began to take the Compound. After taking four bottles, I was able to be up and walk around, and now I am doing my housework. Many thanks to Mrs. Pinkham for her wonderful Compound. It saved my life."—Mrs. HATTIE MADDEN, 134 North Clark Street, Chicago, Ill.

More evidence in favor of that never-failing female remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Revival services will begin at the Baptist church tonight.

St. Margaret's Guild meets tonight with Miss Agnes Seabrease.

Miss Margaret Metcalf has accepted a position as saleslady with Dallas F. Green, the Arcade jeweler.

Lieut. Howard Laubach, of Fort Clark, Texas, will soon be married to Miss Kate Hague, of El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wolf, of South Broadway, have returned from a two weeks' visit with relatives in Connecticut.

A bargain apron sale will be held in the Y. W. C. A. rooms, 21 Washington boulevard, tomorrow afternoon from 3 to 10 o'clock.

Mrs. D. K. Creighton and children, of Chicago, will arrive next week to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. D Guild during the holidays.

Mahlon Heller is the agent for the new book of W. H. English, "The Conquest of the Northwest." The work is an excellent one and many of our leading men are subscribing for it.

It is stated that W. D. Holliday, assistant general freight agent of the Big Four, with headquarters at St. Louis, and one of the Big Four's most valuable men, has been offered an important position on the Wabash by Joseph Ramsey, the new general manager.

Miss Anna Bartley died last night at St. Joe hospital from the effects of a stroke of paralysis, which occurred Friday. She was seventy-nine years old and had been a resident of Fort Wayne for about fifty-five years. The funeral will be held at the Cathedral at 8:30 tomorrow morning.

Herman J. Miller, an employe of the Fruit House, met with a painful accident that might have been the cause of fatal injury. He was taking a large box to the second floor on the elevator. He tipped the box over so he could place it on a truck and in doing so the box became overbalanced and fell against his chest, fastening him against the wall. The box was full of goods and weighed about 400 pounds, and it is a wonder that it did not fatally crush him. He was relieved from his perilous position by some fellow workmen.

Last evening there was a meeting in Library hall of the Ford Masters, the new military company which was recently organized by a number of the young men of the various Catholic churches of the city. Rev. Father Gundling was present at the meeting and made an address to the boys in which he wished them prosperity. Five new members were initiated and there are three awaiting initiation. At present the company consists of thirty-eight members. The company is preparing to give an entertainment shortly after the holidays.

THE FARMERS OF ALLEN

Will Hold Their County Institute Here Next Week.

Questions of Interest to be Discussed by Prominent Speakers—Program of the Session.

The farmers' institute of this county will be held in this city on Monday and Tuesday of next week and their sessions will be of an interesting character as a good program has been arranged for the meeting. The sessions will be at the city hall and will be presided over by W. A. Fairfield, who is the president of the institute, with J. J. Bundles, of Hunterstown, as secretary, and J. D. Lloyd, of this city, as treasurer. The institute will be called to order at 9:30 o'clock on Monday morning by President Fairfield, who, after making a few remarks will introduce Mayor C. E. Oakley, who delivers the address of welcome. Senator T. E. Ellison, of this city, will respond and then the first address will be delivered by Mr. Brigham, his subject being, "The Cure for Hard Times." A general discussion will follow and occupy the time until the noon hour. The program for the remainder of the session is as follows:

AFTERNOON SESSION.

"Stockraising and Experiments"..... Mr. W. W. Stevens, Salem
Discussed by the institute.
"Cultivation of the Apple for Profit"..... Palmer
"Farming as Connected with Other Callings"..... J. S. Almelie

EVENING SESSION.

Music.
"Birds' Kendezvous of Song, Flight and Call"..... Mr. W. W. Stevens
"Strikes"..... Mr. Brigham

TUESDAY MORNING SESSION.

Music.
"How to Recover and Maintain the Fertility of the Soil"..... Mr. Brigham Discussed by J. W. Hamilton.
"Can We Raise Horses and Keep Them Under the Fertility of the Farm"..... Mr. Brigham
Discussed by Dr. Latsaw, Smith, Gilpin.
"Substitutes for Hay"..... A. H. Bates, Dundee
Discussed by Wm. Johnston.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Music.
"The Whole Question of Fertilizers"..... Mr. W. W. Stevens, Salem
Discussion led by Samuel Mills, Huntington county.
"The Hen for Profit"..... Mrs. Brigham, Monroeville
Discussed by Mrs. Hollis Hoke, Goodland.
"Strawberry Culture"..... Smith, Gilpin
Discussion of question by the institute.

The institute this year promises to be one of the best yet held and there will be a large number of farmers from different parts of the county in attendance. The state speakers, Mrs Stevens and Mr. Brigham, have been addressing institutes in all parts of the state and their discussions of their themes will prove interesting and profitable.

SURRENDERED.

Moore's Bondsmen Give Him Over to the Court.

The Salvation Army Band at the Princess Rink.

Gospel Hymns Sung and Played to Popular Secular Airs—A Fine Concert.

The Salvation Army band held meetings at the Princess rink yesterday afternoon and evening. The services are of a most interesting character, the singing, and the playing of their big brass band, being the features of the meetings which attract attention. The soloists with this band are so good as those with many traveling concert companies. They will hold services every night this week at the Princess rink.

The members of the band are wide-awake Christian workers and they believe in worshiping God with joyful noise and they use musical instruments of all kinds to do it with. At their services yesterday the excellent brass band opened with a selection, followed with a solo, sung to a guitar accompaniment, by Officer Jones, and gospel songs by different members. Several of the army then gave their religious experience, as did also persons in the audience, and after each talk the band would start up with soul enlivening music. Captain Kemp delivered a short address and the meetings were enjoyed by all present.

Captain Kemp tells THE SENTINEL that he has decided to throw the doors of the rink open to everybody and there will be no admission charged. He desires to reach the masses with free salvation and everybody will be welcomed at the rink this week without the payment of any admission whatever.

People who desire to hear an excellent musical concert should hear the Salvation band.

Meetings will be held in the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Berry street M. E. church, and at 7:30 o'clock in the evening at the Princess rink.

Edmunds & Law have a fan-blower that will cause King Frost to keep on the outside of the window, where he belongs. A stream of cold air is blown against the inside surface of the glass in such a way that it does not disturb the articles in the window. The air is drawn through a cloth inlet box so that nothing but clean, drafless air gets into the enclosure. It has long been known that if the inside of the glass is kept cool and dry there will be no danger of frosting or sweats. But without the fan this would be a very difficult thing to accomplish. The show window is counted the most valuable advertisement the store can have and the displays and arrangement therein are fast becoming a fine art. It has become a habit to have the general public take notice and feel interested in every panorama. Think how cheerless the main streets of any large town with the curtains down on the bright and picturesque display during the holiday season, and yet, in effect, this is what has happened every year for many weeks during the winter. SEVERE ENCOUNTER.

Italian Troops Outnumbered King Menelik's Army.

ROME, Dec. 9.—The army of King Menelik, of Abyssinia, consisting of 20,000 men, was surrounded yesterday and surprised by five companies of Italian troops, under Major Toselli, at Ambalagi. Gen. Arimondi, with another body of Italian troops, advanced to the support of Major Toselli, but was stopped by the enemy, and a severe battle was subsequently fought. The official despatches say that the losses of the Abyssinians were heavy, but no news is furnished concerning Major Toselli's command and nothing is said about the Italian losses.
